Rogers Gives Out Secret Hoover Is to Know Saturday

(Special To The News)

BEVERLY HILLS, Cal., Aug. 8.—A reassuring wire from Mrs. Stone says Fred is getting along fine. That's great news.

Here is a secret, but don't let it out. They are going to tell Hoover Saturday that he is to go into the finals against Al.

His speech is to be shortened to 45 minutes. That's a long time for a man just to say, "I am proud that my country has chosen me for their standard bearer and I hope that I will be able to live up to that high standard."

I see where Coolidge this morning says that Hoover will win.

Cal has to issue almost a sensational statement nowadays to get in the papers. He can catch a whale now and never even land on the editorial page.

Yours,

WILL.

PA NEWC OBSERVES

With the announcement that the fine new Central Fire Station on South Jefferson street is to be occupied tomorrow by the Central Department, there is left as a problem for the city council, the use of the East street building, which is being abandoned. For many long years it has been used as a fire station. Councilmen are reticent as to the probable use of the old building. There have been many suggestions and recommendations. One of these was that it be used as a central building for the charity agencies of the city; another that it be used for work in connection with the police department, another that it be converted into a municipal lodging house, another that it be used for other city departments, and there is also a possibility that the building will be leased for commercial purposes. No definite action has as yet been taken by council in the matter however.

Pa Newc was rather surprised while walking along Washington street yesterday to see an aged lady, one who had the appearance of being eighty at least, dropping a penny in one of the fortune telling machines that line the street here and there.

Workmen have started laying the concrete on Norwood avenue. This paving construction will be completed in a few days, but the street will not be open for traffic for several weeks.

One New Castleite has become so accustomed to carrying an umbrella this summer that even today when the sun gave every appearance of being out for the day, he boarded a street car carrying the old reliable rain protector.

New Castle Traction Company apparently has ample evidence that New Castletes are travelling this summer. Tokens from various cities are being found in the fare boxes. Pa Newc has received two from car operators recently that didn't belong in New Castle. Both had "N" in the centre however. One was from Norfolk, Virginia, and the other was from Akron, Ohio, being a taken used by the Northern Ohio Traction Company.

Yesterday in this column there was a mention of the double parking rule. Drivers of bread and ice cream trucks appear to be the worst offenders. They seem to stop when they please, where they please and park as long as they please.

All is not roses, and interviewing beautiful actresses on a newspaper. Yesterday, Pa Newc walked three blisters on his left foot and the prospects are good for the right one today again or tomorrow for that matter.

Pa strolls into the churches that are being painted most every day and watches the painters a few seconds. If you have an artistic soul and five minutes of spare time, take a look at the First Presbyterian church in the interior. How they do it is beyond us. The contracting boss said that painting was a worthless necessity if it did not improve and strengthen the architecture as well as beautify it by coloring. He

Tropical Storm Causes Extensive Property Damage

Florida Mainland Is Struck By Storm Of Hurricane Fury

CITIZENS WARNED TO BE PREPARED

(International News Service)

ATLANTA, Ga., Aug. 8.—Wire communication to West Palm Beach was badly crippled today following a tropical storm which whipped the Florida mainland from Palm Beach to Jupiter with hurricane fury and caused extensive property damage.

The storm subsided at the Palm Beaches last midnight only to move northward up to East Coast in the direction of Daytona Beach, where citizens were warned to be on their guard today.

Seventy Hour Wind

A torrential rain drenched the Palm Beaches and the city was plunged in darkness as the power houses were put out of commission by the gale.

The streets were littered with torn up trees, shrubbery, huge signs and anything else which the 70 miles an hour wind could pick up.

No deaths were reported from the affected area, and only one person was injured in Palm Beach when he came in contact with a live wire in the street.

Daytona Beach early today reported no visible sign of a disturbance except for heavy seas.

George Brennan Noted Illinois Democrat Dies

IS SURVIVED BY WIDOW AND CHILD

(International News Service)

CHICAGO, Aug. 8.—George E. Brennan, Democratic leader of Illinois, died here today following a week's illness of septic poison and complications of kidney trouble. He was 63 years old.

The Democratic chieftain passed away at John B. Murphy Hospital at 8 o'clock this morning surrounded by members of his family and a few intimate friends. He had been unconscious most of the night. During brief lucid spells he was too weak to speak to those about him.

Complications Arise

Mr. Brennan was stricken a week ago with septic poisoning following the extraction of two ulcerated teeth. For several days his life was despaired of, but an emergency operation to drain off the poison was performed and the patient rallied.

His improved condition gave rise to hopes that he would eventually recover.

Late yesterday, however, complications arising from a serious kidney disorder developed and physicians realized that the end was near.

Mr. Brennan is survived by his widow and one child, a daughter, Mary. They have been in constant attendance and were at the bedside when the end came. Former Mayor William E. Dever and other lifelong personal and political friends were frequent callers at the sickroom.

Blow To Smith

Brennan's passing is likely to be felt in all sections of the Al Smith ranks, because of his prominence in

NEW CASTLE WOMAN SEES CYCLONE WHILE IN IOWA

"I'll take Pennsylvania," this was the statement of Mrs. T. C. McCracken, who lives east of the Seventh ward, upon her arrival here yesterday following a six weeks visit in Iowa, even though Iowa was her home in girlhood. The reason for the statement was one terrorizing cyclone that Mrs. McCracken witnessed at Corning, Iowa.

Mrs. McCracken was in the vicinity about a mile away from the scene of the cyclone at Corning. She watched the clouds forming and remained watching until danger approached and then all took to the cyclone cellar.

Every family, according to Mrs. McCracken, has what they call a cyclone cellar. "It is nothing other than a round pit in the ground built of brick with a pointed roof with a pipe sticking out for ventilation. When they see the clouds forming and then suddenly turn whirling and start in one direction, all know that it is time to depart for the pit.

The cyclone leaves a swath wherever it goes. This particular Corning

Hoover To Make Biggest Campaign In Eastern States

New York, New Jersey And Massachusetts To Be Real Battle Ground

CANDIDATE COMING EAST AFTER SATURDAY

Will Return To Washington Immediately After Notification Ceremonies

By WILLIAM K. HUTCHINSON.
International News Service Staff Correspondent

STANFORD UNIVERSITY Cal. Aug. 8.—A Republican victory in the 1928 presidential race, as viewed by Herbert Hoover today through the eyes of his political advisers, rests on the outcome in New York, Massachusetts and New Jersey.

This represented a concensus of the political forecasts given the Republican nominee in the month since he left his desk in the Department of Commerce. The nominee was said personally to feel that his party would return its normal majorities in the far west, the mountain states, the farm belt and the middle west and that the big battle lies along the Atlantic seaboard.

To Campaign in East.

With this in mind, Hoover will return to Washington after his notification here next Saturday and spend the remaining time on the actual battleground.

The nominee's closest advisers have convinced him that he will win the election easily if he carries New York, Massachusetts and New Jersey. In fact he has said to feel that Republican victory in any two of these three states would result in his election to the presidency.

Hoover has been told he can win without New York but that in order to do so he must win all the normally Republican states from Pennsylvania westward to the Pacific and capture some of the Democratic strongholds such as Missouri, Kentucky, Arizona, New Mexico and Montana and Nevada.

Battleground States.

In the Hoover lexicon, there are no "doubtful states" out of the "solid south." In addition to New York, New

SENATOR REED GETS SETBACK

Candidate Supported By Reed Is Defeated By Missouri Voters At Primaries

(International News Service)

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 8.—Missouri Democrats have turned thumbs down on U. S. Senator James A. Reed, it was apparent here today on the basis of returns from yesterday's primary elections, and the prohibition question raised by the veteran senator is not an issue.

The Missouri Democrats have nominated Charles M. Hay, St. Louis, as their candidate for the U. S. senatorship by a vote of landslide proportions over his opponent, James A. Collett of Salisbury, who was supported by Reed. But they turned around and nominated Francis M. Wilson, a wet, as their candidate for governor by an even larger majority than that given Hay.

Chairman Of Radiator Works Board Reports Excellent Outlook Ahead

All Italy Mourns For Tragic Death Of Crew Of Sub

POISONOUS GAS KILLS ALL OF CREW

Official Inquiry Into Naval Disaster To Be Made By Italy

(International News Service)

ROME, Aug. 8.—All Italy today mourned the death of 31 men trapped in the submarine F-14 when it sank in the harbor of Pola after a collision with a destroyer during naval manouveurs.

Rescuers had performed an almost superhuman feat in bringing the submarine to the surface thirty-four hours after it sank but poisonous gases inside the hull of the undersea craft had doomed the two officers and twenty-nine men of its crew hours before it reached the surface.

The submarine was raised by means of powerful cranes mounted on floating pontoons. Heavy seas hampered the rescue workers, but buoyed by hope that the crew of the submarine were alive after submarine telegraph communication had been established, they worked on, disregarding personal danger.

Signals Cease

A few hours before the submarine was finally raised at 6:30 p. m. (Italian Time,) the signals from the submarine ceased. Despite this ill-omen, the rescuers clung to the hope that the members of the ill-fated under-

Dr. John R. Straton Accepts Challenge Of Governor Smith

Governor And Famous Baptist Pastor In New York To Debate Issues

PASTOR'S CHARGES START CONTROVERSY

Meeting Of Two To Take Place Sometime During Week Of September 2

By RAYMOND I. BORST
International News Service Staff Correspondent

ALBANY, N. Y., Aug. 8.—There was a possibility today that Governor Al Smith will open his active campaign for the presidency early in September with a debate with the Rev. John Roach Straton, noted pastor of the Calvary Baptist church, New York City.

Charges Arouse Candidate

Deeply aroused because Dr. Straton from the pulpit of his church had pictured him as "the deadliest foe in America today of the forces of moral progress and true political wisdom," Smith called upon the New York clergyman to permit him to answer the charge from the same pulpit during the week of September 2.

Close friends of the Governor said today that the charges hurled at him by Dr. Straton have disturbed him more than anything else that has occurred since he was nominated for the presidency. They predicted the meeting between the executive and th clergyman would be one of the most dramatic incidents in America's political history.

Governor's Statement

"I do not know why you should make a statement of that kind, but I do know that I will never permit it to go unchallenged," the Governor wrote Dr. Straton. "I have spent twenty-five years in the service of the state in elective office and the record of that service is open to the public. I do not feel that I should charge you with making this statement for any political purpose as it was made in a church devoted to the teachings of Christ, one of which was 'Thou shalt not bear false witness against thy neighbor.'

"I therefore ask you in a spirit of American fair play to invite me to your church at any time that suits your convenience during the week inclusive and beginning September 2, and I ask you to make the same statement in my presence with such proof of its truth as you may be able to advance. I further ask that you permit me to make full reply. In order that you may not be embarrassed I will permit you, if you choose, to conduct the meeting by question and answer. I will be ready to answer any question you may put to me which, in your opinion will in any degree tend to justify your remarks.

An Obligation

"For eight years I have been the Governor of the state of which you are a resident, and I am firmly convinced that you owe it to me to give me an opportunity to be heard before your own congregation on your statement that you made about my political career."

Pointing to the many improvements

Magnificent Banking Home And Business Block Is Completed

STRUCTURE HAS 150 ROOMS FOR OFFICES

Banking Quarters Are Large And Latest Ideas In Banking Home

Remodeling and enlargement of the quarters of the Lawrence Savings and Trust Company is rapidly nearing completion, and officers of the institution have selected Aug. 18 as the date on which the people of New Castle and Lawrence County will have their first opportunity to inspect at leisure the improvements which the bank has made for their service and convenience.

Most interesting of the changes in the banking room which is substantially larger than heretofore is the elimination of the customary grillwork and teller's cages. Instead of dealing with patrons through little wickets the employees of the bank will talk with their customers face to face across an unobstructed counter. This is a plan recently adopted in a number of banks and officers of the Lawrence Savings and Trust are confident that it will meet with the general approval of the public and contribute effectively to a better understanding between bank and public.

Handsome Banking Rooms.

This unusual arrangement, together with the beauty of the walnut trim and decorated plaster and the marble pavement, gives the institution one of the handsomest banking rooms to be found anywhere in a community of New Castle's size. The remodelling operations have included a new main entrance leading directly to the banking room which, with the vault enclosure at the rear is 180 feet deep.

Immediately at the left as you enter is the president's private office, with the officers' space beyond it. Then comes the savings department and beyond it a handsomely appointed ladies' room. At the right of the entrance and opposite the officers' and savings space is the commercial department with the trust department adjoining. A double row of handsome columns—ten in all—runs the length of the lobby at the rear of which is the safe deposit vault enclosure.

The vault itself, of steel-reinforced concrete construction, steel covered and steel lined, with a great circular door of Herring-Hall-Marvin

Coolidges Plan To Stay In Wisconsin For Another Month

(International News Service)

SUPERIOR, Wis., Aug. 8.—President and Mrs. Coolidge will remain in the north woods of Wisconsin until about September 10, it was learned today.

The excellent fishing on the Brule river and its adjoining lakes have proven so alluring for the executive that a decision has been made to stay at Cedar Island lodge a little longer than originally had been planned. The president also is particularly pleased with the completeness of the isolation he is enjoying.

The departure from the Brule is not expected to mark an immediate return to Washington, however. It has been two years since Mr. Coolidge has visited his boyhood home at Plymouth, Vt., and tentative arrangements now under consideration call for a trip from here direct to the Green mountains. If Plymouth is included in the itinerary of the return East, the president probably will get back to the National capital about September 25.

Thieves Enter Business Places

South Side Coal Company And Viaduct Garage Offices Entered

The strength of steel frustrated an attempted safe robbery at the South Side Coal Company's office early this morning when persons, gaining entrance to the office through a basement window, spent some time in a futile effort to get the safe open. The door handle of the box was twisted off during the attempt.

Although the thieves did not open the safe, their visit was not entirely fruitless, for in the office they gathered up hack saw blades, an emery wheel and a motor.

It is thought that the same persons later broke the window of the Viaduct garage, located at the intersection of Gardner avenue and Moravia street, and attempted to steal a car. Officers Lynch and Logan investigated both cases. As yet no arrests have been made in connection with them.

EVANSTON, Ill., Aug. 8.—The body of Miss Jennie Constance, 42, head of the English department of Bradley Polytechnical college of Peoria, was found at dawn today behind a hedge in front of the palatial home of George H. Peaks, Evanston millionaire.

She had apparently been beaten to death with a piece of lead pipe, after being mistreated by her assailant.

That the crime was committed by a moron, without the motive of robbery, was evidenced, police declared, by the fact that a valuable necklace lay beside the body and two rings remained untouched on her fingers.

It's fun to sit in a grand stand box and loll in the easy chairs, it gives a fellow a glowing thrill, and leads to his putting on airs. And it's nice to sit in the bleacher seats, but the fun that we called immense, when were kids was to watch a game, through a knothole punched in the fence. We couldn't see all that the players did, and the fans often got in the way, but the thrill was there, just to see the field, and now and again see a play. It may have been cheap, but what could we do, we had little money to pay, we were knot hole fans of the rabid sort, it's ninety-two today.

Boys Pass Tests At Camp Phillips

Numerous Merit Badges Presented To Successful Scouts On Tuesday

Tuesday proved to be a very busy day for the scouts at Camp Phillips who immediately started to pass their scalp tests and required work. The following tests were passed today; Junior Brown, merit badges in carpentry and painting; Bob Jameson, merit badges in camping and bookbinding; Harry Shannon, merit badges in painting, woodwork and handecraft; Clyde Shannon, merit badges in painting, handecraft and electricity. The following boys passed parts of their second class test: Merle Bees, knife, axe and compass; Mac Close, knife, axe and observation; Frank Fareno, knife, axe and observation; Charles Hertzog, knife and axe; Paul Linnesly and Carl Lutz, knife, axe and observation; Harold Morrison, compass; David Lewis, knife and axe; John Succui, knife, axe and compass; Charles Lockhart, passed first class swimming. Many other scouts passed scalp requirements which are similar to the regular scout tests.

The high point scorer for the day was Charles Lockhart who scored 170 honor points, while John Succui came second with 165 honor points.

Both the morning and afternoon swims were held although the river is a little high and muddy from the recent rains. Several scouts are working on the merit badge life saving and are being instructed by Baldy Watson. As this is one of the hardest merit badges to pass some of the boys only need it to become Eagle scout.

At hard ball today a team picked by Bob Brown beat Junior Brown's team by a score of 12-5. Bob Jameson unpired the game. For the scouts that did not play ball archery was provided.

At colors tonight the wayseeker scalp, the first, was given to John Bucui and Merle Bees, that of pathfinder, the second scalp, to Charles Lockhart, while that of Junior Brown was presented the scalp of hunter, which is the fourth scalp.

The weather has been fine at the camp and the scouts are having a good time.

Jersey and Massachusetts, there are other "battleground states." This includes Connecticut, Rhode Island and Delaware on the Atlantic coast; the four border states, Maryland, Kentucky, Missouri and Oklahoma, Illinois, Michigan and Wisconsin in the middle west; Nebraska in the farm belt, because of the possible attitude of Senator George W. Norris, veteran insurgent leader; and Arizona, Montana, New Mexico and Nevada out where the west begins.

The Hoover management will enter the campaign hopeful of winning all the battleground states on the east coast. The Hoover leaders also expect to win Kentucky and Oklahoma and plan a real battle for Missouri. They look upon Illinois and Michigan as safely Republican, but intend to campaign both states as though the result were in doubt.

A special effort will be made to keep Wisconsin in the Republican column, but this plan will be abandoned if Senator Robert M. Lafollette comes out against Hoover. There will be free-for-all fights in Arizona, Montana, Nevada and New Mexico with the latter looked upon as surely Republican.

parked in Cascade Park, the vanguard of the crowd which is expected to crash all picnic records for the season here, thus far.

Out in the park the various committees are busy at work, taking care of their duties, and nothing seems to be lacking in the way of preparation. The side show tent is offering the wonders of the animal and human kingdom for the price of a dime ten cents, (step right inside ladie-e-e-es and gentlemen), the Legion of Honor has a headquarters for the patrols out through the park, and one tent is being guarded by a dog with a vivid yellow coat. This tent seems to be shrouded in mystery or yellow canvas or something of the kind.

Parade Big Success

At ten thirty this morning the street parade moved over the downtown streets of the city and the spectators seemed to think it was well worth watching. Two traffic policemen headed the line, followed by Uncle Sam on a high velocipede. Then a band on a high circus wagon, with Miss Columbia seated on a throne. Clowns of all descriptions, a ballet dancer mounted on a horse that looked like a blood relative of a dinosarus, a wild man gnashing his teeth and rending the air with his blood curdling shrieks, an organ mounted on a truck, Indians, cowboys, a covered wagon with some Puritan maids inside, a pack mule from the Days of '49, a long string of automobiles and the usual calliope.

It was a doggy parade sure enough, one that rivalled an old time circus parade but by the time the paraders got to the park they were somewhat damper than they were when they started.

Animals On Exhibition

One exhibit that is attracting much attention in the park is that furnished through the courtesy of H. J. Sines. Game Warden for seven western counties, Game Protector F. N. Johnson of this city, and Game Protectors, Harry Van Cleave of Coudersport, Chauncey Logue of Emporium, and Ray McKissick of Ligionier, Pa.

The exhibit contains 2 bear cubs, 3 raccoons, 2 beaver, a fawn deer, a horned owl, and 26 ring necked pheasants which were hatched out by a bantam hen. They will be kept in this county to hibernate here.

It looks like a wonderful day for a wonderful picnic. Dancing will attract the younger folks this afternoon and evening, and the various amusements will probably be busy. Commander-in-Chief William H. Dunlap is delighted with the prospects of success as is General Chairman C. Ed. Brown.

When Nobile writes his book the most gripping chapters doubtless will be the one explaining why a leader should accept rescue and leave his crew behind.

ought to know. The company that is doing the job is the fourth generation of painters.

The sultry weather seems to have even stopped the bootleggers in town. Aldermen report that there is very little doing in their courts and that things have not been so quiet in a long, long time.

If The News were the only customer of the florists, their business would be as dead as a cat after the tenth attempt at suicide. Flowers are brought in almost every day from somewhere and presented. Yesterday, Mr. Rentz, chief flower admirer for The News had to go out and buy some new vases to hold them all.

After interviewing the lady last night that witnessed the cyclone out in the middle-west, Pa Newc has decided that he'll take the hills and burnt orakes of Pennsylvania and leave the flat ground and cyclone cellars in Iowa to some one else.

Lawrence county can be justly proud of what building has been done and is being done. The two new banks are certainly beautiful examples of craftmanship and then there's the new hospital, hotel and so on.

A business man told Pa Newc yesterday that business was getting better. He said it was not a great percentage of increase but it was steadily noticeable and he thought that in a month there would be a big difference.

Three landing fields for a town the size of New Castle and a county the size of Lawrence is not such a bad record, we think. There are also several airplanes locally owned. By the way, Mr. Love takes a spin in his airplane every morning. He can manipulate it himself too.

Sometimes there seems to be no sense of rhythm in the things that barbers and many other people do. Tuesday afternoon, quite a crowd gathered in front of one of the down town barber shops. There was an attraction inside. A man with only a few stray fringes was getting a hair cut. On the top of his head, where hair used to be, there was nothing but fuzz. And the barber was clipping the fuzz off, so that the pate would be bald and shiny, with nothing to mar its symmetry.

The old patrol wagon at the police station has about wheezed its last. In fact, there are not many more miles left in the old bus. It was out Tuesday afternoon on a call, and from the reports of the officers, it had a hard time making it. But Pa Newc wonders how many drunks it has hauled to the station, and how many policemen and their brides that it has greeted after the marriage ceremony.

Tuesday evening Pa Newc was given a private showing of the corned beef and cabbage which is made by Chef Albert Reeg of The Castleton. Now he does not wonder why Jiggs fights for it. And Chef Albert Regg should get the prize, Pa Newc believes.

Tourists are coming from the west Tuesday afternoon J. R. Dice of Fargo N. D. stopped at the New Castle Motor club and asked for a routing through to New York and Atlantic City. These are two places that he has heard lots about he said and he wants to see them before anything happens to him. Fargo, western movie fans will remember is the starting point of the once famous Wells-Fargo pony express.

in the state's government, brought about during the eight years he has occupied the chair of chief executive, Smith told his confidants he is certain Dr. Straton cannot find anything in his political career that can possibly substantiate the charge that he is a foe of moral progress.

The Governor's advisers feel that a debate with Dr. Straton would afford him a splendid opportunity to launch his active campaign for the presidency. If Smith's friends have their way his debate with Dr. Straton, if it can be arranged, would be broadcast over a network of radio stations.

Accepts Challenge

New York, Aug. 8.—Dr. John Roach Straton, pastor of Calvary Baptist church in New York, today accepted the challenge of Governor Alfred E Smith to debate the charges made by Dr. Straton against Governor Smith in his sermon last Sunday which were summarized by the pastor with the statement that the Governor was "the best friend of the forces of reaction, immorality, vice and crime, in the land today," and "the deadliest foe of moral progress in America."

Dr. Straton at his summer home at Greenwood Lake, N. Y., issued a statement saying that "as a matter of fair play," he would repeat the sermon of Sunday to "Governor Smith's face and in his presence" giving him fully opportunity to reply.

Although perfectly willing to have it held in his church, Dr. Straton suggested that the debate, in view of the tremendous public interest it would arouse, be held in Madison Square Garden or some other large auditorium.

"Inasmuch as my message was a note of warning to the Southern Democracy which I love so well because I at one time lived in the South I believe it would be appropriate for Governor Smith to swing around the circle with me and debate in the South the issues raised by my sermon," Dr. Straton said.

"I feel deeply the tremendous danger in which the Southern Democracy has been placed by the astute political maneuvering of Governor Smith."

Dr. Straton suggested Baltimore, Richmond, Atlanta, Raleigh, Jacksonville, Louisville, St. Louis and Dallas be included in such a swing around the South.

construction is protected by an electric burglar alarm system which gives the whole a preferred insurance rating. The structure, which is unsurpassed in the city, houses 1,750 individual two-key lock boxes of the latest type. Adjoining the vault and within the handsome grille work which separates it from the main banking room, are five coupon booths for the convenience of safe deposit patrons.

Another feature of the remodelled banking rooms is a night depository safe for the convenience of patrons who find it inconvenient to come to the bank during regular hours. The main entrance to the Lawrence Savings and Trust building is now 223 Washington street. The travel department at No. 227 has not been interfered with by the alterations. The entrance between No. 225 gives access to the seven office floors above.

On these floors are 150 rooms which will be ready for occupancy by September 1st. High speed elevator service is provided from the building lobby and the bank will arrange and finish to suit the requirements of tenants. Applications for the space are coming in rapidly and by reason of its central location and ready accesibility the bank expects an increasing demand.

the New York governor's forces since 1924.

Brennan's position as one of the strategists for Governor Smith was enhanced by developments at the June convention in Houston. He played an active part in the drive which brought victory for Smith on the first ballot, and was credited with a major portion of the maneuvering which led to Senator James A. Reed's ringing endorsement of the nominee from the platform in Sam Houston Hall.

Former Coal Miner

Brennan was born in New York state, in 1865. At twenty he came west and found employment in the mines around Braidwood, Ill. He studied between hours of labor below the surface and read constantly in his spare time.

In 1887 an accident in the mine necessitated amputation of a leg. Following his recovery he came to Chicago and interested himself in politics. He sold insurance and bonds, and his business prospered.

By 1903 he had become secretary of the executive committee of the state central committee of the Democratic party. In that year at Springfield he married Miss Jessie Fogarty. Two years later he became manager for the U. S. Fidelity & Guarantee Company of Maryland. He still held that position at the time of his death.

Had Rapid Rise

Meanwhile his political career advanced. He became Democratic committeeman from his ward.

In 1918, when Roger Sullivan died, Brennan inherited control of the Sullivan wing of the party. In 1922, he was accepted by Woodrow Wilson as the Democratic leader of the state. At the Democratic National convention of 1924 Brennan assumed leadership of the group which blocked the chances of William G. McAdoo to obtain the presidential nomination. It was generally conceded as a Brennan coup when James G. Davis was nominated, breaking the convention deadlock between Governor Al Smith of New York and McAdoo.

cyclone swept a narrow path about a mile in length. Every building was destroyed; the buildings being unrecognizable and the boards broken into little bits of wood.

A barn was lifted up in the air and carried away some rods and completely demolished and a team of mules were left standing there unhurt. A few minutes previously they had been in a huge barn but now they were in the open air and the barn was but splinters of wood.

During the cyclone, said Mrs. McCracken, cattle and horses are picked up and carried some distance. After the storm dead cattle with broken backs, heads and crushed bodies may be seen lying through the fields. Chickens caught in the storm are stripped of all their feathers.

In some cases nothing is left of the vicinity after the blow has passed over, but they usually do some queer trick like leaving the mules standing with the barn blown away. Trees are stripped of their bark and the tops completely torn away while the trunk will still stand. The woven wire fences are wrapped in a ball, and in the Corning storm a line of barbed wire was found wrapped around a cow's head.

There are few lives lost during a cyclone, reported Mrs. McCracken. Most always, the storm is seen forming and approaching and the natives seek shelter. They may emerge a few seconds later with their entire household gone. All they can do is to "start all over again".

The neighbors are always sympathetic especially in the farming communities when some one has been deprived of their all and a collection is taken up to aid the loser to rebuild.

A storm may destroy buildings completely and leave another but a few hundred feet away standing safely and unharmed. It is but one of the tricks of the whirling cyclone, said Mrs. McCracken.

ALL ITALY MOURNS FOR TRAGIC DEATH OF CREW OF SUB

sea boat's crew had only been overcome by foul gases or had moved to the conning tower.

However, the amazing efforts of the rescuers had been in vain. All of the submarine's crew were dead.

Pending an official inquiry, it was assumed that chlorine gas was responsible for the asphyxiation of the entire crew of the submarine. All 31 bodies were found huddled in the rear position of the craft, leading to the belief that some of the trapped men attempted to escape through the torpedo tube.

It is believed that nine of the victims died Monday night and the rest yesterday afternoon with rescue near at hand.

When the submarine was brought to the surface, those who entered it were forced to wear gas masks, because of the poison fumes.

The F-14 sank at 8:45 a. m. Monday (Italian Time) it had suddenly appeared on the surface in the harbor of Pola, off Brioni Island, right under the bow of the destroyer—Guiseppi Missori. The collision followed. The submarine sank immediately in 131 feet of water but the destroyer was not badly damaged.

The officers who died in the submarine were Captain Weil and Commander Fasulo. Admiral Fischini was in charge of rescue operations.

The F-14 normally carried a crew of only 25 but several apprentice mechanics were aboard during the naval manouvers in which the submarine was taking part when it sank.

POLA, Aug. 8.—The Italian submarine F-14 which was sunk in the Adriatic sea with the loss of 31 lives, after it had been in collision with the destroyer Giuseppi Missori, was towed into port this morning supported by a 20-ton pontoon.

A black flag was flying at half mast at the vessel's brow.

This whole city was in mourning for the 31 dead. The men were found asphyxiated from poison gas when the submarine was floated and opened.

TROPICAL STORM CAUSES EXTENSIVE PROPERTY DAMAGE

of the Mallory liner Algonquin, reported in danger of going aground during a hurrican off the East coast of Florida, saying that "everything was all right."

The message said:

"Algonquin, crew and passengers in Florida Straits. Was blowing hurricane. Everything all right.

At the offices of the steamship company it was said that the request for bearings by the Algonquin evidently had been misinterpreted to make it appear that the liner was in distress. It was said that during storms it was usual for commanders of vessels to get in touch with naval radio stations to get their exact bearings and information on the weather prospects.

Most of Danger Over.

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla., Aug. 8.—Shaken by the force of an angry gale that came out of the night, the Palm Beaches today breathed with relief as gentler winds and clearer skies indicated that most of the danger from the threatened tropical hurricane was past.

As darkness fell last night the winds had whipped out of the west at a 50-mile an hour rate. This morning only a gentle breeze came from the south.

Damage Not Heavy.

The city was without lights, and through the night many of the residents sat in darkness helplessly awaiting the whim of the storm as it whipped sheets of rain to the ground along with power lines and wires, trees, shrubbery and parts of roofs.

A hurried inspection of the damage today indicated that it was comparatively light. Valuable palm trees were torn or uprooted, sign boards swept down, windows broken and a few small boats were damaged.

The show places of the wealthy here, and their mansions, were already boarded up for the summer and they suffered little damage, although tremendous seas swept over Ocean boulevard.

No fatalities were reported early today. Two persons were rescued from a precarious position when the gale overturned a small boat in which they were sailing, and a power company lineman was severely shocked when a broken live wire fell on him.

The city this morning is littered with broken branches and other objects which were tossed about by the wind. It presents a rather bedraggled appearance, but seems little hurt otherwise. When the storm broke last night, it looked like another September, 1926, hurricans but after galloping around ruthlessly for about five hours it moved further north.

Towns north of here were cut off from the Palm Beaches and the damage there, if any, was not known here.

HIGH SCHOOL TEACHER WEDS IN GROVE CITY

One of the most beautiful weddings of the mid-summer season was solemnized Tuesday evening at 8:30 at Grove City when Miss Deborah Cory Thompson, daughter of Mrs. Lois Cory Thompson, dean of Grove City college, became the bride of Roy Orville Sakemiller of Cleveland, O.

The ceremony took place in the Colonial and was performed by Rev. Owen, rector of St. John's Episcopal church in Sharon, assisted by Dr. C. A. Williamson of Grove City. An improvised altar was banked with white lilies, palms and white tapers.

Mrs. Reeder, wife of Captain William O. Reeder, was matron of honor and her small daughter Betty Ann was the flower girl. The bridesmaids were Elizabeth Harshaw, Elizabeth Hosick, Florence Breckenridge and Mrs. John Black.

The bride was lovely in a bridal gown of white satin. She wore a tulle veil fastened in crown effect. Her shower bouquet was white lilies. Her matron of honor and bridesmaids wore shades of yellow and peach.

Ralph Pond of Cleveland, a cousin of the bride, was the best man and the ushers were Robert Thorn of Grove City, Hardy LeSeuer and Robert Brydle of Cleveland and Alfred Lindsey of Chicago.

Preceding the ceremony Miss Cory of Lake Erie college sang a number of selections and Miss Florence Chilson of Columbus played several violin numbers. The wedding march was played by Prof. Herman Poehlmann, instructor of music in Grove City college.

The bride has been an instructor in the commercial department of the New Castle high school for about five years.

Guests from New Castle who attended the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Orth, Misses Frances McClaren, Marjorie Rhodes, Pauline Gilkey, Dorothy White and Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Nothdurft.

ITALIAN SUBMARINE DISASTER

SINKING of the Italian submarine F-14 and the loss of the entire crew of 31 officers and men, despite the fact that the raising of the submarine from 131 feet of water was accomplished within 35 hours of the time the accident occurred and the boat went to the bottom, is another tragedy impressing the ever present danger in the use of submarines.

Until the time comes when the use of submarines is outlawed, it appears from the frequent recurrences of the accidental sinkings that such tragedies are to be expected.

Great credit is due to the Italian rescue workers, however, and it appears from this vantage point of viewing the sea tragedy that United States engineers could well investigate the means used by the Italian engineers in raising the submarine. In impressive contrast to the efforts made in recent sinkings of American submarines is the work of the Italians. It took weeks to raise the sunken U. S. submarines, when if the work in one case had been accomplished with the speed shown by the Italian engineers, it is likely that the American crew would have been saved.

The Italians have demonstrated that it is possible to raise a sunken submarine in a short time, and there should be little reason for a repetition of tragic deaths such as those reported in the last American submarine sinking.

The tragedy of the Italian submarine disaster, is that despite the great work done in the rescue operation, all of the crew were dead. Poison gas that generated in the submarine caused the deaths.

SHORTENING THE INTERIM

UNDER the election laws as they stand presidential candidates are nominated in June, are notified of their nomination in August, campaign three months until the election in November and enter office the following March. The president-elect is a nonentity in the national government for four months after his election. He sees a "lame duck" congress enacting legislation and hears the retiring president read a message to congress between the time of his election and inauguration.

There were reasons for these delays in early days when communication was difficult. Then it required two months to notify a man of his nomination and a campaign of three months was too short. And the result of a presidential election was not known for weeks after the election. Today the radio and telegraph make it possible to determine the outcome within forty-eight hours after the polls close, and the victor could reach Washington from the Pacific coast in a few hours by plane or in a few days by railroad.

So there is a rising tide of agitation for modification of these laws to reduce the period of the whole presidential-election process from nine months to three or four months. Three months from nomination to election and thirty days from election to inauguration would be ample.

Congress should effect these changes to give quicker effect to the will of the people as expressed in the election and out of fairness to the president-elect.

FRANCE RECOGNIZES THE DEBT

THE proposal that European debtors trade some of their colonies to the United States for the cancellation of their war debts has been made several times by Europeans, but it has received no official consideration so far as the public knows.

A former French consul-general at New York is the latest to make the suggestion. He asks why the United States and France do not settle the ticklish question of French war debts, which already has aroused so much ill feeling and is likely to cause more, by having the French cede certain of their colonies to the United States in return for cancellation of a part or all of France's debt.

America insists that the war debts be paid, but she wants them paid in gold, not in unwilling subjects. This nation is not in the market for additional territory. It now has more than it knows what to do with. Experience has taught the American people that cancellation of the French debt might prove cheaper than assuming some of her troublesome colonial obligations.

From every angle the proposal would be a bad deal for the United States. It would mean a liability crowning a liability; a compounding of a debt.

The offer is, in one respect, not distasteful to Americans. It reflects a happy change in France's debt policy. A few months ago she was demanding cancellation and offering nothing but insults in exchange. Today she is willing to pay her debt with land. At last she admits it is an honest debt. That in itself will restore friendly feelings between the two peoples, because, the United States is exercising the greatest charity and patience toward her debtors.

Ideas are funny little things. They won't work unless you do.

THE FARMERS WORK

Many thousand plows are turning the soil.
The farmers are busy with their toil.
They plan and work,
And no labor shirk,
That we all may eat the fruit of the ground
And have food and clothes the year around.
But it takes faith to plant the seed
For sustenance many millions need,
For sometimes the seed don't come up,
And, if it does, insects eat it up.
But regardless of the risk the planters take,
They do the work with plow, hoe and rake.
That you and I
May have bread and pie.

Years ago people used to think that seeds from grapes caused appendicitis! Now that folks have gotten so thy drink their grapes, they should worry.

A young railroad worker in Belgrade shot an editor seven times and naturally killed him as that is even too many bullets for an editor to hold. Some innocent bystanders were also plinked by the rain of bullets. Editors are evidently no more popular in Belgrade than they are in other places, but they don't often get more than half shot.

The Hints and Dints man has received a picture card with the picture of a lake on it up in Canada, from George W. Muse, who, with Judge James A. Chambers is on a fishing trip up there. The picture of this lake is evidently where they are going to fish. On one side of the card is written "Won't be many at home when we get through here." Muse evidently means they will take the fish away from their happy homes in this lake.

We should have used cinder dust or something on the dozen we have growning in our yard that are five feet high and not a tomato on very many of them—and those are about like peas in size. Some pumkins are mighty small at that.

There is a law in Mexico which prohibits the execution of a woman for murder. In this country we have no such laws and do finally execute them after harrowing details have been gone through with. Too many men spend three or four years learning a trade so they can open a pool room.

American Girls.
Earth's Airy Armor.
The Nordic Stayed Home.
France May Show Us.

By ARTHUR G. BRISBANE
(Copyright, 1928, by N. Y. American, Inc.)

Our girls can swim. One, unmarried, swam the channel. Then an American married woman swam the channel. Now Martha Norelius of New York wins the 400-meter swim, beating the Olympic record and the world's record.

Long distances, or short, across the channel or in 400 meters of smooth water, American girls finish first. It is a good sign for the coming generation, which American girls must manufacture.

Next Saturday look for many shooting stars, and thank Eternal Wisdom, for the atmosphere which is earth's armor plate.

A shooting star is a meteor usually of solid metal, melting, reduced to dust as it passes through our air.

At frightful speed, resistance of the air creates friction so intense that all but the biggest meteors melt and are harmless.

If our protecting atmosphere were missing and all the meteors struck with full weight, there wouldn't be a city in existence on the earth's surface.

Prof. R. D. McKenzie of Washington says "Nordic supremacy exists only in the Nordic's own conceit."

It is, however, true fact that the limited numbers of light-haired, light-eyed human beings have done a good deal. They have repeatedly conquered southern seas inhabited by dark-eyed people, only to be absorbed by the darker types.

What historians would call "the 1,000 greatest men that ever lived" were, more than 900 of them, of the light-eyed, light-haired type.

Even among dark-eyed races the genius often has light eyes, Napoleon coming from dark-eyed Corsica with his light gray eyes, etc.

It was family life that did it. Men of the north, shut in all winter, had to get acquainted with their wives and children, and stay home. They couldn't go dancing through snow drifts with other people's families.

In the south, where the roads were open all winter, heads of families probably wandered. That gave northerners a start.

The statement that Henry Ford drove one of his new cars 400 miles in one day was inaccurate. The facts are that Mr. Ford left Delaware Water Gap at 6:10 a. m. Saturday and arrived at his house in Dearborn, Mich., at 1:55 a. m. Sunday, driving 715 miles in 19 hours and 45 minutes.

The worst of it is, that Mr. Ford, who got to bed at 2:15 in the morning, was up at 6:30. At 65 years of age that kind of trip, plus lack of sleep, is as bad as a two-weeks' fever.

Grains were down Monday. Bears busy with wheat predicting $1 a bushel before the end of the year. The crop is abundant, so, according to Bears and experience, prices must go down. It's an old story with farmers; when they haven't got it, the price is high, when they have plenty of it, the price is low.

If the railroads found their rates cut in two, in good times, they would not be happy.

Uncle Sam's budget for 1930 is estimated at three billion, seven hundred million dollars. "Military defense" will cost $659,000,000. If real war came, none of that money would be spent usefully except wages to competent officers and the trifling amounts spent in flying and submarines. All the rest would be useless junk.

National defense cost has increased $40,000,000. That amount spent for flying machines, would give us a real defense.

France may show this rich country how to spend money on a big scale, improving your own. The French consider a scheme for creating gigantic seas in the deserts, originated by Dwight Braman, New York engineer. He would cut three deep, wide canals from the Mediterranean to the beds of three ancient Sahara lakes. Ten thousand square miles would be flooded, and Sahara's climate changed.

Uncle Sam might wake up and think about his own country. He has plenty of money, plenty of water, and might use some of the water that does harm in the Mississippi valley.

AFTER THE GAME

When the game is over and counted is the score
'Tis vain to wail the "seven", which should have been a "four".
The figures are recorded, the holes are lost or won,
The battle is decided. So stand to what you've done.

Make no excuse for failure if fairly you have tried,
And if today you've conquered make no display of pride,
For he who is the victor tomorrow may be downed,
And he who is the failure may play the perfect round.

Vain are all excuses the countless "ifs" and "buts",
The record shows your faulty strokes and all your careless putts.
So let the victor have his joy. The long day's grind is through.
You've been a failure for the day. Don't be a whiner, too.

A RADIO CAMPAIGN

In 1920 Station KDKA of Pittsburgh played a Listz Rhapsody on an automatic piano and asked the audience whether they liked it and if they wanted any more.

In a week the electrical shops in Pittsburgh and the surrounding country sold out all their radio supplies. The people liked it and so radio broadcasting was born.

From one station in 1920 to 700 in 1928.

No industry that we know of has developed so rapidly as the radio business.

Those of us who were half inclined to buy the stock a short time ago when it was selling around 90 are now kicking ourselves because we didn't do it.

Twenty million people listened in at each of the presidential conventions. Those who were present at the conventions did not learn of Hoover's and Smith's nomination any sooner than the listeners-in.

Calvin Coolidge was the first president to use the radio in his campaign.

In the coming campaign the radio is destined to play an important part. It now ranks with the newspapers as a medium for publicity.

It will cost somebody a good deal of money for a campaign speaker to exalt his candidate and his party, but as far as we know nobody is going to object to campaign expenses of this kind.

Congress has provided by a law enacted in 1926 that all parties shall have equal rights in broadcasting. Of course, however, the candidate with the most money behind him will most use the radio.

It is a far cry from a candidate making speeches in various halls throughout the country and from the

THEY WERE NOT WASTED.

For some time after November 11th, 1918, newspapers and magazines of the Nation published many pictures of the vast collection of Motor Transports which had been landed at the French Ports of disembarkation. Motor Trucks which had been shipped over seas by the United States Military authorities and never used. These were sold for a mere pittance as was so much of the materials and munitions of war, but the impression given to many readers was that they were allowed to rust and decay.

There were about 32,500 army trucks and ambulances left in France by the American Expeditionary Forces in 1918, and many of them still in active service, according to Assistant Trade Commissioner at Paris, H. C. Schuette.

The trucks are kept in repair by a number of French dealers in automobile parts who bought up entire spare-parts depots at the end of the war. Servicing of these trucks from the stocks of parts left there has become an important and lucrative business for a number of local firms that specialize in the repairing and reconditioning of these vehicles.

Although the presence of these trucks at first caused some apprehension as to their possible effect on the French market, it has not impeded the sale of new vehicles to any great extent. Immediately after the war, the French automobile indusutry was not in a position to fill the demand for commercial vehicles; while local industry was going through the transition period in readjusting plants to peace-time manufacture, many of these trucks rendered a great service in filling the temporary need. The excellent performance of these vehicles is believed to have done much to establish for American trucks the good reputation they now have in France.

The former A. E. F. trucks, reconditioned or repaired when necessary and now scattered in every part of France, are employed in a great variety of commercial and industrial pursuits, such as construction (one constructor in a provincial town employs a fleet of 20), street and highway building and maintenance; it is not even uncommon to see them hauling paving material on the streets of Paris. The former ambulances have been converted into delivery trucks and such like vehicles mostly for use in the Provinces. Dealers say that they have a sufficient quantity of most of the parts to keep the trucks in repair until they fall apart from sheer old age. According to their statisticians, the last of these vehicles will be chugging along the roads of France in 1935, completing a total life of usefulness of about seventeen years.

The French waste nothing.

CRIME WAVE REMEDY

Statements made at the Seattle sessions of the American Bar Association have appealed to the press as a challenge both to citizens generally and to the legal profession in particular. Prevalence of crime is declared to call for an awakening of the public conscience and an increased feeling of responsibility is invoked for those who practice law. President Silas H. Strawn of the association spoke of the effect on crime of the law's delays and weaknesses, easy transportation, organization among criminals, and political contributions by law breakers. A report to the association emphasized the effect upon public life of enormous profits made by bootleggers.

"Observant Americans," says the CLEVELAND NEWS, "are well aware of these disquieting truths. That lawyers also realize the facts may be encouraging. But it would be more helpful if the law's practitioners would recommend ways to restore law to a state of efficiency and respect. Then laymen could consider the advisability of additional means, such as curbing the extent to which lawyers can gain immunity for criminals in return for shares of crime's easy profits."

"The profession is obviously wondering about itself and its future," the Baltimore Evening Sun suggests. "Whom does it serve? Is it the bulwark of the public against evildoers, or is it the bulwark of private interests against the public? Is it the nemesis of crime, or is it the lawyer's office the sanctuary of criminals? When these questions begin to be asked, not at all ironically but in grave earnest, it is time for the profession to begin to check up; to return to first principles, to analyze its basic tendencies."

The statement by Mr. Strawn that "the reduction of crime depends not so much upon prosecuting officials and courts as it does upon the attitude of the people," is taken up by the Savannah Morning News with the comment: "Those who blame the courts and the officers charged with the enforcement of the law forget that these are representatives of 'the people,' that they are chosen in election or appointed by authority itself selected by the people, that they are agents of and servants for the people; that they are affected—oftentimes unconsciously—by the will of those who placed them in office.* If the laws are not enforced, the people can, by expression of genuine, determined opinion, bring about an atmosphere in which, so far as human effort can accomplish it, the laws will be enforced."

"It will do no good to pass additional laws only to have them flouted by crooks while complaisant officials look on," argues Santa Barbara Daily News. "Honest police officers and county officers, honest courts and juries, can and will clean up the criminals. And an aroused public will see to it that official do their duty or drive them to the tall timber. After all, the remedy lies with the people, and they must use it or submit to the domination of crooks."

But the Louisville Times remarks that, "as President Strawn points out, the public is careless in the selection of those who are entrusted with law enforcement. Therein, unquestionably," continues that paper, "is the principal point. The encouragement of bootleggers comes from patrons, many of whom are classed otherwise as law-abiding citizens. But in building up the strength of the underworld, these good citizens are tearing at the foundation of law and order. They are giving the underworld fast cars, corruption funds and machine guns."

"Whenever the public conscience becomes aroused to action in maintaining respect for and obedience to law," declares the Philadelphia Evening Bulletin, "there will be irresistible power to enforce it. If the desired results in law enforcement of any kind are to be attained, the appeal must go farther and deeper than merely to the mental faculties of the public; something more than a condition of alarm must be created. The conscience of the public needs to be aroused."

Failure of the law to cope with crime is asserted by the Huntingdon Herald-Advertiser, with the further statement: "The statutes themselves, generally speaking, are adequate. The fault is with their enforcement. To say that such a statement is commonplace is to admit the shameful truth that the widespread prevalence of crime is being accepted by a large proportion of the public and by many officials as a normal, or at least as an unavoidable condition, instead of a recognized national evil to be rooted out by extraordinary measures."

Quoting from Mr. Strawn the opinion that "discontented citizens should meditate more intently upon the possibility of helping themselves," the Youngstown Vindicator states: "After all, laws cannot do everything. They cannot be too far in advance of the people, for if they are, they are broken so much that the public comes to assume that if some laws are held in such contempt, all others may be, as well. In the end, that leads to anarchy. The point is worth remembering. So is Mr. Strawn's remark that, instead of trying to make men good by law, we must get them to do something for themselves."

The New York Times discussion of the subject as related to bootleggers is quoted by the Raleigh News and Observer, with a reply to the views of the Times: "The Times says the association committee is repeating 'the threadbare demand,' says talk of 'vigorous enforcement' and 'honest effort to enforce' is empty, and compares it to 'Dame Partington trying to mop up the ocean of rum.' * The duty is incumbent upon all those who seek to lead the people to preach respect for the laws of the land. Failure to do this as to one law encourages men to feel that they can with impunity violate other laws."

Some Aid Given For Blind Boy

First Contributors For Aid Of Unfortunate Youth Are Received

MONEY IS NEEDED FOR MEDICAL CARE

Twenty six dollars has been received at the business office of The News for the Dale Marshall fund, which will go to aid a blind and deaf boy regain his sight and hearing.

An appeal to the generosity of the people of New Castle was made Tuesday by the lad's father, William Marshall. Mr. Marshall, who with his son, lives at 7 South Jefferson street has expended all of his money in a futile effort to change the boy's condition. At the present time, his money is exhaused, and that is the reason he appeals to the people of the city.

Contributions toward the fund will be received at The News office.

Appeal Board Makes Rulings In Zoning Problems

Allows Some, Refuses Others And Holds One In Abeyance

In its session Tuesday afternoon at the city building, the board of zoning appeals acted in three cases and agreed on a statement to be presented to council Friday by one of the members of the board.

In the case of L. Baron, 123 East Edison avenue, the board allowed the appeal of Mr. Baron for permission to enclose his front porch in glass.

It appeared that in making other repairs, when a permit was secured intended to cover this improvement, that it was not so understood at the city engineer's office. The permit was granted and the porch enclosed in the belief that the permit covered it. In view of the evident fact that it was done by mistake, the appeal was allowed, legalizing the work already done, also because it was the only house in the square and met all other regulations.

In the case of John Kowalchuk, 835 Vogan street, the appeal was to enclose a front porch in glass. There being no objections registered, the appeal was allowed, especially because of the fact that it was the only house in the square and had the proper setback.

Appeal of Abraham Deep, 517 East Long avenue, for permission to rebuild a four stall garage, which had been burned down, was refused, but Mr. Deep was permitted to construct a two stall garage in its place, if placed two feet from the back side of the lot and not flush with Clearview avenue, on which the lot corners, also providing it was made of suitable material and none of the materials of the old garage used, also providing he removed the ruins of the old garage within fifteen days. The refusal to permit a four stall garage was due to the lack of lot area as required by ordinance. Three nearby property owners also appeared and objected.

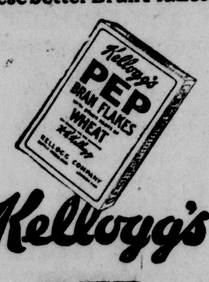

In the matter of the Max Ludwig Company, which concern seeks to erect advertising billboards in front of the former Coliseum property and which council has prohibited, the board of zoning appeals in executive session, passed upon the request of city council for a ruling and Mrs. S. D. Pearson will present the finding of the board at the meeting of council on Friday.

CAMP HENDERSON, MOUNT GRETNA, Pa., Aug. 8.—Troops of the 55th Infantry Brigade, encamped here for the two weeks intensive training, today entered a varied program of camp exercises.

The 109th Infantry Regiment, composed of troops from Northeastern Pennsylvania, and the 110th from Central Pennsylvania engaged in rifle practice on landscape targets, the 75 foot range and the big range.

Later in the day both regiments were given instruction in combat work, basic competition, pistol marksmanship, bayonet drill, grenade throwing, machine gun firing and infantry drill.

At the meeting of the Haid Day Boosters held in the Leslie hotel Tuesday evening, a check of the tickets sold for the affair at Forbes Field on Friday, August 10, revealed the fact that there will be a crowd of New Castle fans going down.

There are still some seats left and fans who are interested are urged to get in touch with either Chairman Maher or Secretary Alec Samuels. Also, those fans who have room in their automobiles and wish to carry another passenger or two are asked to communicate with Mr. Maher at the Citizens National Bank.

Excellent as our newspapers are in reporting the speeches of candidates the radio is better, for it enables the populace to hear the man's voice and to hear it without going to a meeting, in the privacy of his own home.

Conditions are rapidly changing and before long we shall probably see the antiquated viva voce elections in little booths in the streets done away with and voting by mail adopted.

It is all a question of getting to the people rapidly and of quickly ascertaining their will. New inventions go forward with the progress of democracy.

Mexican Criminal Surrenders Self

Suspect In Bombing Plot And Death Of Obregon Gives Self Up To Police

(International News Service)

MEXICO CITY Aug. 8—Carlos Castro Balda who was wanted in connection with the bombing of the Chamber of Deputies building in May and also in connection with the assassination of President-Elect Alvaro Obregon is in jail today, having surrendered himself yesterday. A reward of 5,000 pesos had been offered for information as to his whereabouts.

According to the police Balda and Manuel Trejo were responsible for the bomb outrage in May. Trejo is alleged to have furnished Jose De Leon Toral with the pistol with which he killed Gen. Obregon.

Under the title "the successor to President Calles" the newspaper El Universal today urged congress and the partisans of the slain president-elect to proceed legally.

The actual political situation is characterized—and this may be an advantage—by the absence of outstanding personalities with capacity for succeeding President Calles in the words of the late Historian Bulnes, the successor to President Calles should be the law.

Democrats Grieve Brennan's Death

John J. Raskob, Democratic Chairman, Says Brennan's Death Is Sad Blow

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Aug. 8.—News of the death of George E. Brennan, Illinois Democratic leader, came as a shock to Democratic leaders in national campaign headquarters here today.

Democratic chieftains joined in expression of sympathy and tribute.

"Mr. Brennan was a fine, human-hearted, intelligent man, whose loss will be sympathetically mourned by countless friends and business and political associates," said Chairman John J. Raskob of the national committee.

Senator Pat Harrison of Mississippi, a close friend of Brennan's, said that the Democratic party had lost one of its most loyal workers.

"In whatever he ventured he became a leader," Sen. Harrison said.

Senator Peter G. Gerry, chairman of the national advisory committee, said:

"Illinois Democracy has lost a great fighter. He will be mourned by a host of friends."

NAPLES, Italy, Aug. 8.—The volcano Mount Vesuvius is in eruption today, the clouds of smoke and lava being visible for 25 miles. A cordon of troops has been established about the base to keep tourists from the danger zone.

A new mouth has developed in the center of the crater and there is a heavy flow of lava into "Hell Valley."

Officer Charlie Augostine lost his dog. Or, it is best, he thinks, to say that the dog is lost. Anyway, he is gone.

NEW CENTRAL FIRE STATION HAS MANY NEW FEATURES

When the Central Fire department moves to its new home on South Jefferson street Thursday morning, it will have one of the finest fire houses in the western part of the state, is the opinion of Fire Chief Charles H. Lynn, who states that when the move is made, everything will be in operation and the company can go into service immediately.

Chief of the features of the new fire house is an automobile signaling device, which records the box numbers on a piece of ticker tape. In turn, this tape is automatically pulled into another device, which rings the fire alarm.

Tuesday afternoon and Wednesday morning, the finishing touches were put on the alarm system. The telephones have been ready for service for some time. Only the formal approval of the city has been keeping the company out of the new home.

The most modern equipment was used in the finishing of the construction. The doors will open easily by a slight pull on a lever. In the rear of the down stairs part of the station, there is a huge hose tower, with facilities so that used hose can be dried quickly and thoroughly.

Upstairs, in the dormitory room, there are eleven new steel single beds with blue and white covers. Ranged along the walls are nine double lockers. The main dormitory room is connected with the down stairs by two brass poles, their hatchways covered with swinging doors. The floor is covered with a brown linoleum, trimmed in black.

In the lavatory rooms, there are both shower and tub baths, and all other equipment is the best obtainable.

A large dining room and kitchen are connected at the rear of the second story of the building. The main feature of the kitchen is a built in cupboard close to the water sink.

Outside the building, a pyramid drive begins with the width of the building and gradually widens until the main street is reached.

PETER'S ADVENTURES in ANIMAL LAND

BY MRS. FLORENCE SMITH VINCENT

Bird That Couldn't Go Straight

"Wifie watched that bird running in circles as long as she could stand it!" Boblink chuckled.

"'What a silly, silly bird,' cried wife. 'Bob, let's fly down and tell him what to do. He seems to have gone crazy with fright. If only he would turn and make for the woods instead of chasing madly about in that fashion he could get away. Come on, let's warn him. The Two-Legs hasn't any "bang stick." He can't hurt us.'

"Now there are times when my wife has bright ideas and this was one of them. In a second I saw the sense of her suggestion and together we dropped down toward the frightened bird. But we were just too late. The man on the horse raised his arm.

"For a second we thought he was going to throw something at us and we dodged. But we needn't have—he never gave either of us Bobolinks a thought. Whizzzzz! With a strange sound, from the man's open hand shot something— just what we did not know—that went singing over us. Then, before one could say 'Kingfisher,' the poor bird we had been trying to aid crumpled up and went down in a heap.

"Now we saw what the man had thrown. It was a rope with a loop on the end of it that had canught the bird about the neck and pulled him to the ground where he now lay gasping for breath. And would you believe it, that cruel Two-Legs rode off and left him there! Wife and I flew down. The poor bird had lost his breath. He could only gasp.

"'There is nothing you can do for me, kind strangers,' whispered he. 'My day is over. Never more shall I pick out the seeds from the newly planted maize fields. Now there will never be any of my babies to run about and play at the border of the woods. And in a tuft of grass not far away there are seven beautiful eggs.

"'If you should happen to meet a handsome brown and buff bird upon the plains that seems to be looking for some one it will be Mr. Elegant Tinamou, my husband. Will you tell him what happened to me and warn him to be careful?

"'If only I had learned to run in a straight line instead of in circles, Two-Legs would never have lassoed me. Oh, dear me! I can't breathe! Goodby, little strangers. I am going to sleep! I shall never wake up! Don't let Two-Legs find you here when he comes back for me or he will harm you!"

Mt. Jackson Church To Build Addition

New Part To Be Used For Sunday School Purposes; Also Kitchen And Dining Room

At a recent meeting of the congregation of the Mt. Jackson United Presbyterian church plans were presented for a new addition to the church building.

It is proposed to have the addition extend the entire width of the building and to be erected at the rear of the church.

The congregation expects to build the new part for Sunday school purposes with a kitchen and dining room in the basement which can also be used for class rooms. Plans were presented to the congregation at the meeting and bids for the building of the new addition were received.

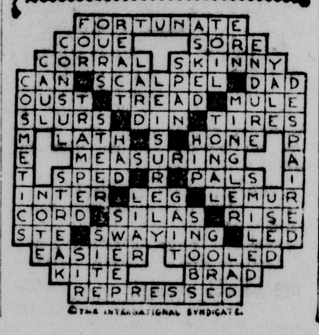

The remedeling is being done on account that the present building is not adequate to accommodate the rapidly growing Sunday school.

On Tuesday evening, August 14, another congregational meeting will be held when definite action will be taken in regard to the starting of the work.

Her Health Came Back Soon After She Got Konjola

New Medicine Ended Years Of Kidney and Liver Troubles; States This Lady

MRS. LAURA L. FULTON
Seavy Photo

Many of the well known residents of New Castle and vicinity are telling how this remarkable medicine, Konjola, is delivering them from their health troubles. The Konjola Man, who is at the Love and Megown drug store, 204 East Washington St., this city, is explaining this compound to over a hundred people throughout each day, and at the same time, many already benefited are giving their indorsement of this medicine.

One of the latest statements came from Mrs. Laura L. Fulton, 110½ North Liberty St., this city.

"This is the first time in my life to ever praise a medicine to the public", said Mrs. Fulton, "and I want to indorse Konjola because it completely restored my health after everything else failed.

"I was suffering every day with kidney trouble. Nothing that I ever took or did for that ailment, would do me the least bit good. As the days passed my condition grew all the worse. My lower limbs would swell up to almost twice their size and sometimes I could hardly get around the house. There seemed to be a constant pain across the small of my back. At night I would have to rise several times and this broke up my rest so that I was always tired and worn-out. Because of sluggish liver, my entire body was broken out with a rash. This caused me so much suffering that I often thought I would go wild. All during the day I had splitting headaches that felt as if a thousand needles were sticking in my head. I always felt tired and draggy—just like I was only half-living.

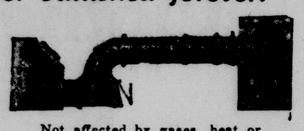

"In this condition I went to the Konjola Man and found out about this medicine. I was merely told that it had helped others in my condition and that it most likely would help me. I have only taken two bottles but I feel as if I never had a sick day in my life. Konjola regulated and strengthened my kidneys so that my limbs never swell. The awful pains in my back have never returned since I started taking this medicine and I enjoy sound and all night sleep. My liver is functioning the way it should and the rash has cleared up, in fact, my complexion is better now than it has been for a long time. The medicine has helped me so much to gain new and glorious health and that is my reason for indorsing it".

The Konjola Man is at the Love and Megown drug store, 204 East Washington St., New Castle, where he is daily meeting the public and introducing and explaining the merits of this remedy.

Firemen Recall Other Days As They Depart From Old East Street Fire Station

"Duke" Byers, lieutenant of the Central Fire company's first platoon, sits sunning himself in front of the old fire house on East street. He is adjusting certain adjectives in his life. Between times he reads a newspaper or talks about this and that to Assistant Fire Chief Claire Stockman.

For the Central Fire company is moving, moving to a new home on South Jefferson street. "Duke" can remember another move, although he was not a member of the department at the time. That was in the spring of 1884, when the Central Fire department moved from the city building to the East street quarters.

Duke Remembers.

"Duke" remembers when the East street station was built in 1883, and he also remembers the old quarters of the company; he remembers when it was in the part of the city building now occupied by the Army and Navy store, fronting on Washington street.

From a point of continuous service, "Duke" is the oldest man in the company. It was on September 11, 1887, that he first donned the blue of the fire department. He has been wearing it ever since; he has been wearing it for 41 years.

During that 41 years, he has seen many changes in the fire department. He remembers when the equipment of the Central consisted of one horse hook and ladder wagon, and one horse hose cart. He remembers when horses' nostrils would distend at the clang of the fire bell, and he remembers how they would stand in their shafts waiting for the harness to drop in their backs, ready to dash to the scene of the blaze.

Yes, "Duke" remembers many things. He remembers when the Central Fire department got its first auto truck in 1911, an event which put the horses on the retirement list. He remembers the first test run, when a crank shaft in the truck was broken. And he can tell about the present equipment; the triple combination fire fighting apparatus.

At the time of the old hook and ladder and hose cart, 1,000 feet of hose were carried. At the present time, 1,000 feet of hose are carried. So there is not much change that way, says "Duke". However, now there are chemicals and pumps to make the city safer from the fire menance.

Captain Alex Hartman of the second platoon, perhaps is the oldest man in years. He joined the company a few years before "Duke", but in 1887 he resigned, and did not enter the service again until 1900.

The roster of the company, who will move to the new house on South Jefferson street Thursday, follows:

First Platoon.

Captain Ralph Craig.
Lieutenant D. W. "Duke" Byers.
William Scott.
Harry Colley.
Byron Zeitler.

Second Platoon.

Captain A. E. Hartman.
Lieutenant George Harper.
Womer Hawk.
Perry McFarland.
Frank Robinson.
First Chief Charles H. Lynn.
Assistant Fire Chief Claire Stockman.

Church Decorating About Completed

Unusual Speed Made On Work In First Presbyterian

After three weeks work, painters have finished the painting and decorating of the first Presbyterian church on the corner of Jefferson and Falls streets.

Today, workmen are putting on the finishing touches and scaffolds are being taken out of the building. The time for such a large job has been very short and the work completed even before the expectations of the contractors.

The entire interior of the church was redecorated. The main auditorium, Sunday school rooms, reception rooms and halls have all been painted.

Throughout the whole edifice there is quite a harmony of color giving a restful appearance. The architects original ideas have been considered and studied out while the colors have been placed to bring the original ideals to the highest peak. The coloring of the art glass windows has had a generous influence on the color scheme carried throughout.

The main auditorium is colored a delicate tan. With the ceiling being finished in cream, ivory and gray, it makes a happy color combination.

The cornice is finished in an antique ivory and illuminated with gold while the ivory and gold are enrichened by a band of blue green inset on the cornice frieze.

The dome is enrichened by the old green coloring of the brackets and the beautiful Romanesque scrolls at the base of the dome.

The borders are plaid at both top and bottom of the walls and exert a pleasing face on the other decorations. The main auditorium is the key note to the decorating a coloring in the remainder of the church, the entirity of it being in harmony with the main auditorium.

The ladies parlor has had an added touch by way of the ceiling being decorated with a floral design. Woodwork, radiators, and other insets of the building have also been painted and decorated.

Fire Calls Must Be Sent Direct To Central Station

Police Station Will No Longer Be Relay Station For Fire Calls

When the Central fire department moves to its new home on South Jefferson street Thursday, persons who have been used to calling the police station when they have fires to report will have to change their tactics, is the statement made this morning by Sergeant D. T. Nelson of the New Castle police department.

Formerly when the police got a fire call one of the officers would dash out to the fire station, located beside the police patrol barns, to give the alarm.

When the company moves its equipment this will no longer be possible.

The police wish to remind the public that their telephone number is 8, while those of the Central fire department are numbers 7 and 266.

Work Is Progressing On Princeton School

Although the difficulty concerning the roof of the new consolidated school of the Slippery Rock township school district because of the employment of non-union roofers in putting it on has not as yet been adjusted, the work on the building continues to progress satisfactorily, the threatened tie-up of the work by the Building Trades Council having so far failed to materialize.

Indications are that there will be an adjustment of the matter in the near future. The Building Trades Council is continuing its efforts to organize the roofers of Ellwood City.

Treasure Island To Be Presented

Playlet Will Be Staged At Dick Victor Camp On August 12

(Special To The News)

ELLWOOD CITY, Pa., Aug. 8.—Treasure Island, a playlet, will be staged August 12 at the Dick Victor camp for boys, located near here, according to announcement made today by K. E. Williams, dramatics director at the summer institution.

Work has been under way for the past month month and indications at the present time are that the show this year will exceed any staged here since the organization of the camp. Under the direction of Art Sprenkle the stage settings are rapidly nearing completion. An inn and a large pirate ship have been erected at the camp site and the play will be staged outdoors. Fifteen hundred people are expected to attend.

With but 16 days remaining of the 1928 season a most successful year is rapidly drawing to a close. One hundred and sixty boys and a staff of 50 counselors make up the personnel of the camp this year. Activities have been in full swing since the opening on July 1 and despite inclement weather conditions everything has been run off splendidly.

A feature of activities this year has been a game called "goofy golf". A nine-hole golf course has been erected and the boys and their daddies have had a great time in making the rounds of this course. Along with this sport were baseball, basketball, football, canoeing, swimming, dramatics, archery, tennis, track, gymnastics, manual training, hiking, horseback riding and numerous other events. Thirty-mile horseback trips and overnight hikes to an outpost camp were added features.

Three New Castle boys are listed among the 160 campers. They are Charley Nolan, a two-year-old boy; Tommy Heck and Donald Lusk. Tommy Heck and Don Lusk are making rapid strides in all camp activities, especially in swimming, as both boys were listed as non-swimmers when camp opened and only recently Tommy swam 100 yards and Lusk negotiated a distance of 60 yards.

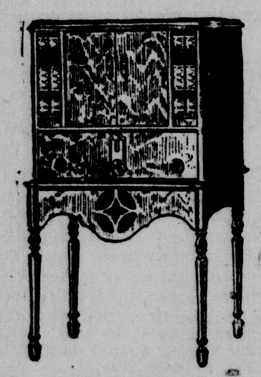

Johnny Kraft of New Castle is in full charge of swimming at the camp for the third consecutive year. He with a staff of six assistants are having a great year at the water. Private instruction is given to all non-swimmers and special work is given to the advanced swimmers. Camp tests and life-saving are now being given to the boys. During a swimming exhibition recently Johnny Kraft performed a "barrel roll" stunts in the water and set a new record by rolling 235 times. His former record was 109.

Dick Deverall of New Castle is also counselor at the camp here. Dick has charge of a midget cabin and gives instruction in archery.

It is likely that many New Castle folks will visit the camp on August 12 and see the wonderful play which will be staged here at that time.

DISEASE GERMS CARRIED BY FLIES

Flies Must Be Killed If Infection Is To Be Prevented

Eminent health authorities say that the ordinary housefly reeks with filth and germs of dread diseases. These flies' bodies are covered with fine hairs that are saturated with unspeakable matter. They drag their contaminated bodies over food intended for human consumption. Flies taint everything they touch.

Science has developed a pleasant way to banish this most dangerous insect. Send a cloud of FLY-TOX mist high into the air and envelope and stifle flies crawling on ceilings, resting on lighting fixtures or hiding behind hanging pictures.

Have the sprayer handy, filled with FLY-TOX; and when those winging insects such as flies, mosquitoes, moth-millers and other bugs invade your home; or spiders appear with an unsightly web, a few strokes of the sprayer ends the invasion with death.

FLY-TOX is a clean, pure, fragrant, liquid which is stainless and harmless to people. It was developed at Mellon Institute of Industrial Research by Rex Research Fellowship.

CHRYSLER

New Chrysler "75" Town Sedan, $1655

WHEN the products of a single motor car manufacturer have in five successive years overwhelmingly gained in public esteem both at home and abroad—

When each of these annual gains has constituted a sales record for the whole industry—

When the total gain over five years is the only record of its kind and the greatest in 25 years of automobile manufacture—

When the announcement of its latest products sweeps the nation with enthusiasm and produces an increase of orders actually ten times greater than its best previous year—

Then it must be apparent that the reasons are to be found in superior performance, greater style, higher artistry and assured long life.

You are cordially invited to put any Chrysler to a test and comparison of your own. You will then instantly recognize in its surpassing quality and value, sound and logical reasons for Chrysler's mounting success. 1389

President Coolidge Given Raspberries, Only Delicious Kind

(International News Service)

SUPERIOR, Wis., Aug. 8.—President Coolidge got the raspberry Tuesday from the Minnesota State Horticultural society.

Raspberry in the plural perhaps would be more accurate, for there were a whole basket of them.

"I have received many raspberries," Mr. Coolidge told newspaper men, "but never such fine ones as these."

The President's usual Tuesday trip into Superior found him in an exceptionally good mood. Discussing his fishing activities, he indicated there are "45,000 fish in the Brule."

"I haven't caught them all yet," he said, "but I have them pretty well intimidated." One lake already has had to be restocked, the President boasted.

The Executive has no fears about the outcome of this year's collection of taxes, it was stated in his behalf. Business is running very well, according to all reports reaching him, and he anticipates a fair return to the Treasury in the matter of revenue.

This was said in the face of knowledge that congress, as has been its practice in the past, may enact appropriations in excess of the budget estimates. Mr. Coolidge will veto any measures running over the budget, it was stated.

Mother Of Slain Barbara Mauger Bowed In Grief

Up Until Last Mother Hoped That Mistake Had Been Made In Identity Of Girl

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 8.—"I had hoped that there had been a mistake and that Barbara would return to us," Mrs. Harry Mauger, mother of the Philadelphia girl slain in Los Angeles sobbed Tuesday when she learned positive identification had been made.

Harry Mauger, the father, a Reading railroad conductor, then explained as his wife wept softly.

The news can hardly break us further. We are broken already. But you see we really had a thread of substance to pin our hopes to for on Sunday night the Los Angeles police telegraphed me to inquire about any dental work in Barbara's teeth. Then on Monday night they wired me again to ask if her fingerprints had ever been taken. So we hung on to the hope that perhaps the identification was not complete although in my heart I knew it was.

"But you know how mothers are. She couldn't believe it was her girl who was dead out there."

Arrangements have been made with a local undertaker regarding the return of the girl's body to Philadelphia.

New Lebanon Reunion Event On August 15

Invitations are being received in this city at the present time for the annual reunion of the former students of the McElwain institute, a school which flourished several years ago at New Lebanon, Mercer county. The outing this year has been set for Wednesday, August 15, and will take place where the old building now stands.

It is expected that a number of people from New Castle will attend the reunion for there are still several former students of the institute living in the city at the present time.

A program in the evening, consisting of musical numbers, speeches by several of the old students and possibly by one or two of the former instructors, will be an event of the evening in the chapel of the school.

Chicago Chatter

BY IONE QUINBY

Exclusive Central Press Dispatch to New Castle News

Chicago, Aug. 8.—Although the Art Institute, with its bronze lions, is better known than almost any other building in Chicago, it has been "sold" by confidence men at least a dozen times. Usually its salesmen are oily talking flashily dressed individuals, with a certain amount of "it." Women, with a few thousands in ready cash, are spotted mostly for this particular type of confidence game.

The method is to show photographs of the imposing structure to persons with social aspirations, who show signs of unsophistication, and who would like a "mansion" in Chicago's Gold Coast neighborhood for a thousand or two down.

The institute was "sold" at one time to a Spanish woman, gossip goes, whose husband had made considerable in South American sheep. For some reason or other the "mansion" on the lake made a big hit with her. She was told the place was filled with fine old paintings and a lot of statues and was close by the turreted castle of Mrs. Potter Palmer. The woman never knew she's been gyped, for she died soon after, but her daughters were out several thousand in inheritance money.

The institute has considerable atmosphere, even in a kodak picture, of "love" as well as money. A Chicago girl nearly married an up-and-coming young Texan recently, but the engagement was broken when some kill-joy told him the picture his fiancee sent him of his future father-in-law's home was only an art museum open to the public Wednesdays and Saturdays.

In one of the hotels on the north side, recently, a man unaccompanied by a women flirted with another man's girl on the dance floor of the cafe and promptly got shot in the leg. The next night a friend of mine dropped in to eat a bite, as he'd done many times before, and was told he couldn't patronize the place unless he brought a woman with him. There are lots of places around town where a woman can't appear unescorted, but this is the first time I ever heard of a man getting turned from the door because he was alone. The manager said unaccompanied men are a "risk."

WAY TEN HERBS BENEFITED HER WAS SURPRISING

Says Lady, After Suffering Was Relieved: Wants Others To Try New Medicine.

"I had no idea that I would be benefited by Ten Herbs the way I have, as I was in a very bad condition," was the statement of Mrs. Margaret Eckle, 622 Industry Street, South Hills, Pittsburgh, Pa., according to the Ten Herbs Man, who is at

MRS. MARGARET ECKLE

Eckerd's of New Castle, Inc., 30 East Washington Street, New Castle, where he is daily demonstrating this successful medicine.

"My whole system seemed to be out of order," Mrs. Eckle continued. "My appetite was poor, and when I did force myself to eat I would be troubled with gas and a suffocated feeling. I was bothered with irregular bowels, and my liver seemed to be inactive. Black spots would float in front of my eyes, and I often had dizzy spells. There were pains across my back, and I had to arise frequently at night. I was nervous and got very little sleep. Finally, rheumatism became very painful in my hands and arms. My hands would swell so badly that I had no feeling in them.

"Soon after starting to use Ten Herbs I began to feel better. I had a fine appetite and good digestion—no more gas or suffocated feeling. My bowels are now regular and dizzy spells are gone. Pains have left my back, and I do not have to arise so often at night. My nerves do not trouble me any more, and my sleep is sound and refreshing. The rheumatism in my hands and arms has been greatly relieved, as the pains are gone. My hands do not swell and numbness has left them. I hope my experience will be the means of others getting the same wonderful relief from Ten Herbs that I have."

The Ten Herbs Man is at Eckerd's of New Castle, Inc., 30 E. Washington Street, New Castle, where he is daily meeting the public and explaining the merits of this medicine.

Mrs. Tom Mix Is Seeking Divorce In French Court

Wife Of Famous Cowboy Movie Star Is Seeking Divorce In France

(International News Service)

BEVERLY HILLS, Cal., Aug. 8.—Tom Mix, noted film cowboy actor, Tuesday admitted that his wife had gone to Paris to sue him for divorce. Mrs. Mix left here a month ago with her daughter.

"I haven't heard form her since she left," he stated, "and I don't know what her present plans are. But when she went away, I told her I would agree to anything she wanted to do. But every night I pray that she and Tomasina will be sent back to me. My house is always open to them."

By the terms of a property settlement, arranged within the past year, Mrs. Mix is said to have received approximately $5,000.

Mix and the former Victoria Forde, an ex-film actress, were married ten years ago.

Request Farmers To Cooperate In Move For Highway Safety

HARRISBURG, Aug. 8.—Farmers and farm employes are asked to join with the Pennsylvania department of highways in preventing accidents on the open highways. A bulletin issued today by the department points out that the harvest season is in full swing, and many farmers can avoid heavy property damage by the exercise of simple cautionary measures.

Wide gates entering fields, says the department bulletin, sometimes are left open, swung across the highway berm and often touching the shoulder of the pavement. While the gate is not actually on the highway, motorists sometimes are forced to a close clearance on the right due to traffic conditions, and missing the gate is difficult, if at all possible. Care should be taken that the gate is swung back to the fence, if left open, and fastened so it cannot swing free. Open gates at night constitute a definite menace. Cattle are sometimes inclined to wander about, with disastrous results.

The loss of a horse, injury or death of an employe or damage to implements may occur singly or together in the space of a moment as a load of hay, alfalfa or other produce is driven from the field onto the highway near blind curves or the crest of a hill. A load of hay astride the road leaves no chance for a swiftly approaching motorist to avoid a collision. A man on guard a few feet from the danger point will eliminate the hazard entirely.

The motor code has extended special privileges to farmers in hauling hay or straw in loads exceeding the length and height limits for vehicles. Farmers are asked ot reciprocate by avoiding dangers to themselves and others.

Post Cards From Europe

by William Ivy

PARIS, Aug. 8.—The cost of living has been high in Paris for years, but until now the cost of dying has been extremely moderate. Hencef o r t h things will be different.

The undertaking industry in this city benefits at present from a municipal subsidy which is costing the city budget, according to latest figures, somewhat over $200,000 a year.

The city fathers feel that the time has come to reduce this deficit. It is pointed out that the cheapest grade of coffins, costing nearly $2 to manufacture, are being sold to the public at about 60 cents, the city paying the difference. As for the more elaborate models of oak, mahogany or ebony, the loss to the taxpayer is even greater.

At the same time it is argued that funerals must be modernized. At present there exist very few automobile hearses in France. Nearly all funerals are conducted with horse-drawn vehicles, and except in very bad weather the custom is for the mourners to follow the hearse on foot. These slow-moving processions, often of great length, are a serious obstruction to traffic.

The city council has appropriated funds for the purchase of a fleet of motor hearses and will endeavor to induce Parisians to change their habits in this respect.

Many French people, however, feel that a too rapid transportation of the corpse to its last resting place is irreverent, and much opposition to this reform is foreseen.

There is something impressive, to be sure, about a walking funeral. French custom dictates that passers-by shall remove their hats, and all along the line of march not only pedestrians, but taxi chauffeurs and bus drivers salute the passing hearse. It is doubtful if this custom will continue when motor hearses are the rule.

Philadelphia Troopers In Annual Summer Camp Go To Ranges For Practice

(International News Service)

TOBYHANNA, Pa., Aug. 8.—The 108th Crack Field Artillery, P. N. G., composed of Philadelphia troops engaged in target practice today on the firing ranges of camp gordon near here. The boom of the heavy cannon could be heard continually throughout the morning. Between 60 and 70 rounds were fired by each of the six batteries that figured in five major engagements during the world war.

The eighteen gun crews were supervised by men who gained actual experience in time of warfare The range was over a stretch 3,000 to 5,000 yards in length.

A group of State troopers and National guardsmen were sent today to search for Anthony A. Schappert, 74, who disappeared Sunday in the woods near the encampment. Schappert was visiting friends near Lake Naomi when he went into the woods to seek relief from the heat. When the camp was asked for information concerning the aged man Colonel William A. March, commanding officer, detailed a squad to aid in the search.

The regiment will finish its training on August 17 and return to Philadelphia on the 18th.

Showing At Noon Meeting Depicts Benefits Of This Insurance

Members of the New Castle Kiwanis club, in their regular weekly session today at the Elks club, were shown the benefits of life insurance through a motion picture film furnished through the courtesy of the Phoenix Life Insurance Company and the Lawrence Savings and Trust Company.

The film depicted the sorrow that might result if life insurance was not purchased and also the happiness that would be created by doing so.

E. E. McGill, chairman of the board of the Lawrence Savings and Trust Company, delivered a brief talk concerning the supreme importance of this type of insurance, previous to the showing of the film.

Dying, Noguchi Wrote of Each Fleeting Sensation

Martyred Scientist Left an Amazing Bequest to His Colleagues

By GRAHAM STEWART
International Illustrated News Staff Writer

NEW YORK.—The last five minutes of a hero's life! You picture a soldier in the smoke of battle, sorely hit but advancing—doggedly. Plunging on to grips with the foe. His heart ticking for the last few times, dying fingers convulsively sending yet another bullet into the ranks of the enemy!

How different the ending of Hideyo Noguchi, martyred Rockefeller Foundation scientist. Dying in his comfortless tent in the festering, insect-ridden jungle near Accra (West Africa), the stolid little Japanese utilized HIS last moments on earth in penning what is described by colleagues as the most amazing document in medical annals.

Noguchi put on paper in the form of notes the minute-by-minute experience of a man DYING of yellow fever, transcribing each fleeting sensation as it came until—finally—even his iron will no longer could transmit strength to his fingers. The scrawled bits of paper were the scientist's last will and testament, bequeathing that which he had discovered in entering the hereafter.

Noguchi is the most recent of a long list of these martyrs to science. Born in Japan, working in the United States, dying on the job in Africa, he symbolizes the international character of modern research. It was he, who, with his Oriental sense for fine values, definitely identified that pale, minute spiral which is the germ of yellow fever. Later he and his associates worked out both a vaccine to prevent the disease and a serum to cure it.

DR. HIDEYO NOGUCHI

Years hence Noguchi will be saving lives of men and women stricken by it; yet, ironically, it was yellow fever which killed him.

So it was with Dr. Jesse M. Lazear, surgeon, U. S. A., who aided Walter Reed in the fight against the disease in Cuba. He permitted a mosquito to bite him to prove his contention that the bite of only that particular species would transmit the fever.

Lazear died. Dr. James Carroll, another army surgeon, let himself be used for the same test and he, too, died. That was in 1907, seven years after Lazear.

Howard B. Cross of the Rockefeller Foundation died of the same scourge which vanquished brave Noguchi, giving his life in an attempt to reduce the toll of disease in pestilential Vera Cruz. Similarly scores of other gallant investigators—coolly, calmly, unafraid.

The last five minutes of a hero's life! Somehow the picture is different now; Noguchi and his kind have given us a new definition of the word courage.

Swiss Post Stamps Bear Motto Declaring "Schnaps Ruins Race"

(International News Service)

BERLIN, Aug. 8.—The Geneva post office has joined the prohibition crusaders. Swiss letters received here bear a stamp showing a bottle with a skull and cross bones and the following inscription:

"Le schnaps ruine la famille et la race!"

Which means:

"Schnaps ruins the family and the race!"

German papers find it interesting that the French Swiss have been unable to find a French equivalent for the German word Schnaps, meaning booze.

Davis Cup Team Arrives At Home

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Aug. 8.—America's Davis Cup team, which lost recently to the tennis stars of France, returned to New York today on the Paris, facing a further battle in the effort to disqualify its captain, "Big Bill" Tilden because of his tennis writings.

Tilden warmly praised the showing of the younger members of the team, but declined to discuss his trial, scheduled for August 24 before the American Lawn Tennis Association.

"Trial," he repeated, "is a very amusing word."

Sealing Ship Will Hunt For Amundsen

(International News Service)

LONDON, Aug. 8.—The sealing ship Veslekari, commanded by Capt. Wisting, an American, is leaving Tromsoe, Norway, to begin a new search for the lost Amundsen party, said an Oslo dispatch to the Daily Mail today. The sealer will first go to Victoria Island and then will search the Arctic sea for traces of the six missing men. Capt. Roald Amundsen disappeared in June while flying to the Arctic in a French seaplane to give assistance to Gen. Umberto Nobile. No trace of the plane was ever found.

Henry Home Children Frolic At Lakewood

More than 60 children of the Margaret Henry Home, Friendship street, were the guests of John D. Rung at Lakewood Beach on Tuesday morning and afternoon. Yesterday's outing marked the second time that the children of the home journeyed to the lake to spend a day frolicking on the sands and in the water.

A special P. and O. bus was given the officials of the home free of charge for the transportation of the children to and from the beach. The bus arrived at the picnic grounds at 10 a. m. and immediately the boys and girls were scurrying about making the best of their day's opportunity.

Dinner was served to the children in the dining hall at 12 o'clock. Here the children had the best of delicious foods, presented to the boys and girls by various companies. Three gallons of ice cream were given to the children by the Reick Ice Cream Co., five cases of pop by the Lawrence Bottling Works; ten pounds of weiners by the New Castle Sausage company and ten watermellons by Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Rick.

In the afternoon the children were given complete charge of the swimming pool and paddled around to their heart's delight. Swimming suits were also furnished free by the management of the beach as were boats and other amusements at the lake. Mrs. Madge Place was in charge of the youngsters.

Another bountiful meal was laid before the youngsters at 5 o'clock. At 7 o'clock the P. and O. bus arrived at the park and soon the children were on their way home again after having spent a day of their lives at the park.

The home is appreciative of the many gifts received for their annual affair, especially to Mr. Rung the proprietor of Lakewood for his kind services to them. They also wish to thank the other companies for their contributions which went to make the picnic one of the best and most enthusiastic ever held by the children.

Writes From Coast Of Old Timer's Day

Former Local Resident Tells Of Regret At Inability To Return For Day

Many interesting letters have been received here from those who have been invited from other cities and towns of the country to return to the old home town for a visit on Old Timers Day.

One of the most interesting is that received by Mrs. Scott B. Hamilton, member of Reception committee, who as a former teacher has been receiving letters from former school teachers of this district.

This letter is from Sue B. Hutton Leonard of Hollywood, Cal., and is an answer to an invitation sent asking that she made a special effort to return for Old Timers Day.

The letter follows:—

Mrs. Maude Hamilton,
New Castle, Pa.

Dear Maude:

Your kind invitation to attend the Old Timers' reunion is just received, and hasten to assure you of my appreciation of your remembering me, particularly on account of the fact that this is the first formal invitation I have ever received to attend any of the annual reunions of the Old Timers.

I regret that the distance is so great as to preclude the possibility of my attendance, but assure you I shall be present in spirit. While eating my breakfast on August 15, it will be about the hour you Old Timers Assemble for your picnic dinner, and I shall mentally commune with as many of you as I can recall—and you would be surprised if you knew the great number I can draw out of memory's storehouse.

One of the great regrets during the past year has been by inability to peruse the interesting columns of The New Castle News, as has been my custom since coming to the coast over 16 years ago. The past year, however, has been one of Hospitals, Surgeons and Nurses, but am happy to tell you I am improved and able to ride in an auto, thereby catching glimpses of the beautiful mountains, ocean and orange groves.

Again thanking you for the invitation and wishing each and every Old Timer a wonderful day at Big Run Falls.

Ever Your Friend,
SUE B. HUTTON-LEONARD,

Since halitosis never announces itself to the victim, you simply cannot know when you have it.

Marriage-and halitosis

If your husband, or your wife, has halitosis (unpleasant breath), it's your duty to call attention to it and suggest the effective remedy—Listerine.

Certainly this course is a better one than putting up with halitosis and saying nothing about it.

A great many people fool themselves in thinking they never have halitosis.

What a presumption! Because nobody knows when he or she is a victim. It doesn't announce itself to you. But it does to others. And that offends.

Listerine ends halitosis because it is a powerful deodorant. If you doubt this, rub a bit of onion on your hand. Then apply Listerine clear. Immediately the odor disappears.

Use Listerine morning and night, and between times, before meeting others. Lambert Pharmacal Company, St. Louis, Mo., U. S. A.

ARMY'S POWER WILL DECIDE WHO RULES MEXICANS NEXT

By CHARLES P. STEWART.
Washington Correspondent for Central Press and New Castle News.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 8.—Washington will not feel at ease concerning Mexico until it has had planty of time to see how the southern republic's two big political parties hit it off without Gen. Alvaro Obregon.

These two parties are the Laborites and the Agrarians.

There are other parties also—the Reactionaries who would like to engineer a return of the old prerevolutionary days and several more groups.

However the industrial and agricultural factions are the only ones powerful enough to signify seriously at present.

They are bitterly hostile to one another.

Curiously enough their respective leaders were for years the friendliest two men in Mexico—President Calles and the late Gen. Obregon.

Obregon trusted Calles so fully that he passed the presidency over to Calles upon his own term's expiration and Calles was about to return it to Obregon when the latter was assassinated.

Yet, all this time, the Agrarians had hated Calles with all their souls and the Laborites had hated Obregon so venomously that, as we know, the Agrarians held the Laborites responsible for his murder.

So long as Obregon and Calles were swapping the presidency back and forth between them it is understandable that the Agrarians and Laborites at least considered that each party was getting its turn.

But now an emergency has arisen where the Agrarians will not get their turn when they had expected it or else if they do get it, it will be under some other president than Obregon and the new man's relations with Calles may not be so pleasant.

To be sure, Calles has announced that he has decided not to continue in office after the expiration of his regular term December 1.

Nevertheless it is not considered certain he will not change his mind on this point. Tremendous pressure undoubtedly will be brought upon him to persuade him to do so. If he does, it will only be for a two-year period, as provisional president. Even that will strain the constitution and the Agrarians will resent it furiously.

On the other hand if he retires it seems to be a foregone conclusion that his successor will be Gov. Aaron Saenz of the state of Neuvo Leon, who has been tactily recognized as the Agrarians leader since Obregon's murder.

Saenz was prettily well disposed toward Calles in Obregon's time and even held a portofolio in the Calles cabinet but that was out of deference to Obregon. With Obregon gone the danger is seen that his attitude will change, more in conformity with his party's.

Still another danger threatens.

During the outburst of anti-labor excitement which immediately followed Obregon's death, Calles was forced to agree to considerable pro-Agrarian and anti-Labor legislation, which promises to set very ill on the Labor party's stomach as its effects begin to be felt particularly as Saenz, if he becomes president may be depended on to enforce it as vigorously as possible.

Then probably, will be Luis Horones' time to make himself felt.

Morones is very much in eclipse at the moment.

Blamed in a great part as head of the Mexican Federation of Labor, for the Obregon killing, he not only was forced to resign hurriedly as Calles' minister of commerce and industry, but to go into hiding, where he still remains.

Morones is not the man to stay in the background longer than is absolutely necessary. He is as strong as ever with the labor forces and if he allowed himself to be very summarily wiped out of the picture as a result of conditions which took him temporarily by surprise there are few who imagine he will be contented to stay out of it indefinitely.

The Mexican Labor party, after all is a power to be reckoned with, and in event of Calles' retirement December 1 Morones will be the active head of it.

Calles will be a constitutional president until December. Let him undertake to hold over later than that and his tenure will become doubtfully constitutional which the Agrarians are likely to take advantage of.

Let Calles drop out and Sanez come in and labor probably will emmediately be driven to the wall, which will give Morones his opportunity.

Some Washington officials think Calles has sufficient influence with the army to throw its support to Saenz as Obregon's successor. It is more generally questioned if he can do it, even if he wishes—the army having been more strictly the personal machine of Obregon and only loyal to Calles because Obregon ordered it.

Assuming that the future depends on the army any number of prophets are to be found who predict that Minister of War Amaro will decide to use it for his own individual benefit and perhaps turn out to be the next dominating factor in Mexico.

MISS WALLACE STRUCK BY CAR

Accident Occurs At Mill And Washington Street Tuesday Evening

While she was crossing Washington street at the Mill street intersection at 5:15 Monday evening, Miss Dorothy Jean Wallace of 202 East Leasure avenue, was struck by the automobile of C. W Angus of Union township, and knocked to the paving. The driver of the machine did not stop at the time of the accident, according to the police.

Miss Wallace was crossing the street from the south to the north side. Before she attempted the crossing, the traffic light had turned yellow, and the west stream of traffic on Washington street had halted. When she was almost across the street, and the light had changed to red, she was struck by the Angus machine, on the right leg, and knocked down. She was not seriously injured. A traveling bag which she was carrying became lodged in the bumper of the car, and while Miss Wallace was trying to wrest it loose, the car started, she reported.

Officer Thomas Jones followed the car to the public square before he could get the driver to stop. Miss Wallace made a report to the New Castle police department.

A truck of the Kinney Shoe company operated by J. E. Sample of Youngstown broke a street light at the corner of Long avenue and South Jefferson street, it is reported to the New Castle police department by Officer Reynolds. The mishap took place at 8:30 Tuesday evening.

Driving a small truck north on Jefferson street, at the public square Grover Lucas of 250 Smithfield street, backed into the machine of P. J. Hill of R. F. D. 3, doing damage to both fenders and bumper of the Hill machine Tuesday evening.

South Side Library Well Patronized

Kill Rattlers Near Coolspring Swamp

GREENVILLE, Pa., Aug. 8.—Many men of this city who are employed at the railroal fill in Coolspring township near here know now that the section of land known as "Rattlesnake Swamp" is not a misleading name. In the past few days several rattlers have been seen and killed.

Until now the opinions have differed as to whether there were rattlers in the swamp. Several small rattlers were killed last week by workmen and yesterday the king of the snakes was captured. He was of the yellow variety. One of the men narrowly escaped stepping on the snake. Several of the men gave chase and killed the reptile.

The king rattler measured 30 inches in length and had 10 rattlers and one button.

Gamblers Leave $95 With Police

Maybe it was pocker, maybe it was fan tan, or maybe it was almost anything else, but Lieutenant Peter Hillers and Officers M. J. Young were sure they were gambling. So, shortly after midnight this morning, they were brought in from the North hill to the police station.

On the way down in the wagon, they cogitated. At the sergeant's desk, the keeper of the disorderly house claimed that he was "John Brown." The others gave ficticious names. The keeper posted a $25 forfeit, and the seven visitors gave up $10 each.

This morning the city is richer by $95, for, when their names were read out in morning police court by Mayor William H. Gillespie, no one answered.

Commission Allows Compromise Rates On Coal Shipments

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Aug. 8.—A renewal of the controversy over alleged discriminatory freight rates on lake cargo shipments loomed today as western Pennsylvania and Ohio coal operators surveyed their position following the decision of the interstate commerce commission not to interfere with the compromise freight rates on lake cargo coal which would cut the differential between northern and southern coal fields from 45 cents to 35 cents.

Local coal operators were given a setback by the interstate commerce commission's refusal to step in and prevent the installation of the compromise rates, which were worked out about six weeks ago at a conference between northern and southern railroad executives in New York.

The attitude of the commission will permit the compromise rates to become effective on August 15. Lake cargo coal business for this season will be unaffected by the new rate schedule, however, since the new tariffs provide for refunds until January 1, 1929.

After the first of the year the southern rates will go up 10 cents and simultaneously the northern rate to lake ports will be increased from $1.26 to $1.46. When the compromise rate was proposed at the meeting of the railroad executives in New York it was strenuously opposed by both northern and southern coal operators, each holding that their own claims were being compromised too much.

HAD TO WORK TOO HARD

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Gave Her Strength

Mt. Carmel, Pa.—"After my second baby was born I had to work too hard and be on my feet too soon because my husband was ill. After his death I was in such a weakened and run-down condition that nothing seemed to help me. I am starting the fourth bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and feel a great deal better. I am much stronger and don't get so tired out when I wash or work hard. I do housekeeping and dressmaking and I highly recommend the Vegetable Compound. I am willing to answer letters."—MRS. Each Bridge Hand Is Complete Suit

Rarest Hands Are Held In Bridge Game At London Club

LONDON, Aug. 8.—The one chance in as many hundred million as you could name in two days and a half has happened! Four bridge players at the United Berekeley Club, Knight Bridge, London, were dealt hands and each received a complete suit.

For 25 years they have been playing bridge at this one club. The average is about 40 or 50 tables of it a day. Nothing approaching the extraordinary distribution of cards has ever been recorded there and it hasn't been heard of from any other quarters.

The deck had been played with several times and in this particular hand the cards were shuffled and cut in the usual customary manner. The dealer called a huge slam in hearts, the second player bid seven spades and the third and fourth players held diamonds and clubs, respectively.

Park Workmen Repair Parking Ground After Rains

Workmen around Cascade Park were busy all day yesterday getting ready for the immense crowd that fills Cascade Park to capacity today.

The parking grounds, which had been badly washed and gutted by the recent heavy rains, have been repaired. The holes and ditches washed through it have all been filled in.

There is quite a lot of work to do in getting ready at the park for such a crowd as there is there today at the Masonic picnic.

According to Manager Shaner it's a little bit like a farm. There's work of some sort and repairing and fixing to do all the time.

FISHER BROS.

The Diary of a New Yorker

BY CLARK KINNAIRD

Exclusive Central Press Dispatch to New Castle News.

NEW YORK, Aug. 8.—The leading designers of women's clothes are men. Since women primarily dress to please men, that is as it should be. And it also is natural for one of the outstanding designers of men's clothes to be a woman, Louise Bruni.

Mrs. Bruni didn't like her husband's clothes, and did things to them to improve their looks. Then she took up designing masculine attire in earnest and carved a career for herself.

It took men to invent a machine to repair silk hose in a hurry, like shoes. First aid stations for women with "runs" are being opened at crowded corners all over the city. The invention with which they are equipped for the repair work is expected to make two brothers rich.

Did you ever have to wait a half hour or more for an order in a New York restaurant and then feelingly give voice to some such wise-crack as "They're sending to the farm for eggs," or "They are slaughtering a beef especially for us?" Well, you may have been almost right.

New York restaurant supply houses are open day and night, and keep swift messengers on hand at all hours. Thousands of small cafes—and larger ones, too—avoid big wastage in food supplies by waiting until meal hour before laying in supplies. Weather and such things affect the size of crowds so much that cafe managers never can estimate accurately how many guests they'll have. They keep only small quantities of perishables on hand. If patronage is small, then there's nothing much to throw away; if it's large, a telephoned order to the supply house will replenish the larder in a hurry.

Incidentally, groceryettes or thimble-order stores, which cater to folks who buy for only one meal at a time, are increasing in number in New York. The first ones were in Ninth avenue and other havens of the poor, but they are spreading everywhere. All staples, including nationally advertised brands, are put up in small quantities for sale at 5 or 10 cents. Two slices of bacon, one egg, two rolls and two pats of butter; or half a pound of potatoes, one carrot and a quarter pound of beef are not unusual orders. The average check is 35 cents.

Some of the regular 5-and-10-cent stores now have grocery departments, and as much of the small, inexpensive packages of foods is sold on Fifth avenue as on Delancey street. Delancey street is used to buying in small quantities, so that there is no waste, but Fifth avenue is just learning.

Speaking of food, a friend of mine has something to do with the buying of supplies for Aviator Byrd's south polar expedition. I didn't have any idea—there must be others!—that the undertaking had any such magnitude as is indicated by the size of the food supply that is being assembled in New York for the expedition. Among the items are three tons of coffee, two of tinned butter, two of ham, three of bacon, two and a half of candy, one of tobacco, 600,000 cases of eggs. Other items are 8,000 cakes of soap and 1,200 cases of razor blades.

Women Swimmers In Olympics Set New World Marks

World's And Olympic Records Drop In Profusion In Events Staged Today

FRAULEIN SCHRADER SETS FAST TIME

By FREDERICK K. ABBOTT
International News Service Staff Correspondent

OLYMPIC SWIMMING STADIUM, AMSTERDAM, Aug. 8.—World's and Olympic records tumbled in profusion during the semi-final heats of the women's 200-meter breast stroke event in the Olympic swimming championships today, Fraulein Schrader, Germany, capping the climax with a mark of 3:11 1-5, whipping everything from the books.

In a previous heat of the semi-finals, the Hollander, Miss M. Baron, also bettered the listed world's Olympic record by finishing the 200 meters in 3:15 2-5. Fraulein Muhe, Germany, and Miss Jacobson, Denmark, tied for second in 3:16 4-5, also bettering the two listed records for the event.

This heat witnessed the downfall of the 1924 Olympic champion, Miss Agnes Geraghty, New York, who was eliminated by placing fourth although she swam 7 4-5 seconds faster than her winning time in Paris.

In Fraulein Schrader's heat Miss Hazelius, Sweden, was second and Miss Gertrude Hoffman, Kingston, Pa., was third, thus qualifying for the finals. However, Miss Jane Fauntz, Chicago, could do no better than sixth and failed to survive.

Another Olympic record fell in the finals of the 200-meter breast stroke for men, which went to Tsuruta, Japan, in 2:48 4-5. The listed record, 2:56, is credited to R. D. Skloton, United States, in the last Olympics. No Americans were in the final of today's event, second place going to Rademacher, Germany, in 2:50 3-5. Ildefonso, Philippines, was third; Sietas, Germany, fourth; Harling, Sweden, fifth, and Spence, Canada, sixth.

Troopers Adopted Daughter To Visit At Camp Henderson

Little Rachel Eaton, 7, Adopted By 28th Division, To Visit Summer Camp

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 8.—Rachel Eaton, 7, "daughter of the 28th division," the girl with 12,000 daddies, will visit several hundred of her foster-parents at the Mt. Gretna camp of the National Guard within the next few days, when Governor John S. Fisher reviews the troops.

In response to several letters from the men at the encampment, Captain Robert M. Clutch of Darby, with whose family the little French-American girl has lived since coming to America, announced he will take her to the camp. She will have a place of honor in the reviewing stand.

The guardsmen have been very generous to the little girl, whose father, Capt. James M. Eaton, member of the A. E. F., died upon reaching America with the Pennsylvania Honor Legion that returned to France this summer for memorial exercises. Numerous checks and shares of stock totaling more than $2,000 to the fund for the girl's education have been received from Mt. Gretna soldiers.

Rachel is studying under private tutors at present, who feel sure she will be able to enter a grade with children of her own age when school opens in September.

Tunney Sojourns With His Fiancee On Bristol Island

Gene Tunney With Miss Lauder And Family Enjoy Selves On Secluded Island Today

(International News Service)

BRISTOL, Me., Aug. 8.—Gene Tunney was on the island of South Bristol today and so were Miss Josephine Lauder and members of her family.

This was the latest development in the persistent report that the retired heavyweight champion and the $50,000,000 heiress were to wed.

The little island is not connected with the mainland by telephone, but a message of inquiry carried by motorboat brought an evasive reply from Miss Lauder—nothing to say, neither yes nor no. No word came from Tunney.

Miss Lauder and members of her family, including her mother, stopped here enroute to Montreal or Quebec. Tunney has been reported as planning a trip to Europe to talk with Thornton Wilder, the author, planning to sail from New York Aug. 16. The New York story concerning the Tunney-Lauder proposed nuptials stated that the wedding would be in Scotland or France. Trans-Atlantic liners sail from both Montreal and Quebec.

Gimmie Squad Descends Upon Party Headquarters

By CHARLES P. STEWART
Washington Correspondent for Central Press and New Castle News

NEW YORK, Aug. 8.—Republican headquarters in Washington—Democratic party headquarters in New York—

They both hear the same thing—dinned into their ears—imploringly, commandingly threateningly, in every imaginable way—from the minute the first office kid opens the door in the morning until the last boss leaves at night—

"Gimme! Gimme! Gimmee!"

It's the one song that every little local politician knows by heart, and they are singing it in chorus with all their might.

* * *

Far and wide the tidings has been bruited about that more money will be spent, by both sides, on this presidential fight than ever was spent before to win an election in American history.

And does every four-corners in the country want to get in on it?

You better believe they all do.

Members of the G. O. P. committee were howling about it the other day when I left Washington. It was the first thing I heard when I wandered the following day in Manhattan.

* * *

The applicants not only want the money for their various communities—they themselves want the handling of it.

Their argument is that they know their own people best.

Southern Republican fixers are willing to guarantee that they can carry any and every state in Dixie for Hoover—if only they're provided with the necessary dough.

Democratic optimists from the unlikeliest parts of the north stand ready to deliver their commonwealths to Smith—if ample cash is available.

But outside organizers mustn't be sent in, in either case, to try to direct the campaign and administer the bankroll—they don't understand conditions and would simply gum the works.

Of course the custodians of the two big parties' simoleons are pretty hard boiled.

On a straight business proposition they're difficult to fool.

But politics is essentially a game of guesswork. They don't want to overlook any good bets.

Moreover, an extraordinarily large part of the United States is doubtful territory this year. Claims that ordinarily would be dismissed as ridiculous are regarded as possibilities, for once.

It all creates an exceptionally uncertain situation to gauge.

The result is that a great deal of good money undoubtedly is being staked on long shots.

For small-calibre politicians it's a harvest.

The bigger bosses are doing their best, both to prevent actual waste and to avoid expenditures which may subsequently be attacked as improper, but as election day draws nearer all the signs are that campaign financing will become steadily harder to control.

Fred Stone Shows Much Improvement

(International News Service)

NEW LONDON, Aug. 8.—Fred Stone, who was injured seriously, including two broken legs recently in an airplane crash, continues to improve slowly, attendants at the Lawrence Associate Memorial Hospital said today.

The effect of the injuries on Stone's future career on the stage cannot yet be foretold. Surgeons said weeks must elapse before the splints holding his broken legs may be removed and until the strengthening of his legs is well under way, it cannot be determined how long it will be, if ever, before he may be able to dance again.

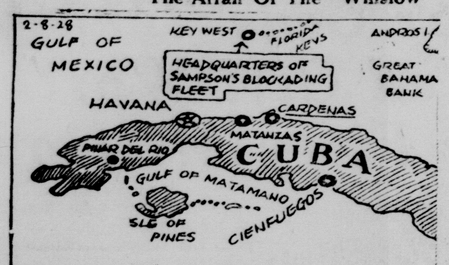

Think what an awful time some historical society of the future will have trying to find Hoover's old home for preservation.

HIGH LIGHTS OF HISTORY

By J. Carroll Mansfield

The Story Of Our War With Spain
The Affair Of The "Winslow"

IN MAY, 1898, WHILE SAMPSON'S BLOCKADING SQUADRON LAY OFF THE NORTHERN COAST OF CUBA, KEEPING A BRIGHT LOOKOUT FOR SIGNS OF CERVERA'S SPANISH FLEET, SEVERAL SHARP CLASHES OCCURRED BETWEEN OUR SCOUTING VESSELS AND THE ENEMY LAND FORCES.

THREE SPANISH GUNBOATS WERE REPORTED HIDING IN THE HARBOR OF CARDENAS. MAY 11 THE LITTLE TORPEDO BOAT "WINSLOW", FOLLOWED AT SOME DISTANCE BY THE CONVERTED REVENUE CUTTER "HUDSON" AND THE GUNBOAT "WILMINGTON", BOLDLY STEAMED INTO THE HARBOR OF CARDENAS TO ATTACK THE ENEMY SHIPS.

TWO THOUSAND YARDS FROM SHORE, WITH THE "WINSLOW" TEARING THROUGH THE WATER AT FULL SPEED, HER CREW SUDDENLY OBSERVED THAT THEY WERE ENTERING A FIELD OF MYSTERIOUS RED BUOYS. IT WAS AN AMBUSH LAID BY THE SPANIARDS.

THE BUOYS MARKED THE EXACT RANGE FOR THE GUNS OF A MASKED SPANISH BATTERY TRAINED ON THE SPOT. AT ONCE CAME A MURDEROUS VOLLEY FROM THE HIDDEN GUNS, RIDDLING THE "WINSLOW", AND DISABLING HER STEERING GEAR, MAKING THE VESSEL UNMANAGEABLE.

Huggins Planning To Shakeup Yankees For Drive Down Stretch

Yanks Return To East Today With Lead Dwindled To Almost Nothing

Miller Huggins Thankful That Team Remained On Top On Disastrous Invasion

By DAVIS J. WALSH
Sports Editor International News Service

NEW YORK, Aug. 8.—In spite of the fact that the finale of the western invasion saw the Athletics blow one while the Yanks were winning, thus widening the gap between this pair of 4 1-2 games, word comes east today that Professor Miller Huggins will give his ball club a violent shaking up. The "perfect ball club" they called it when it was 13 1-2 games in front early last month and seemed concerned only when the hardship of finishing out an ordained but superfluous schedule. Today, having won exactly two series in the last ten contested, they are just so doggoned perfect that the professor means to fire half of the infield.

He probably would be quite content to fire all of his catchers, too, but he can't do that because the rules are most finical about having nine men on the field at all times. The professor has tried to oblige in this respect but eight men and a catcher has been his limit in the last five weeks.

Plenty of Reserves .

Anyhow, he feels he has plenty of able infield reserves and so they say the left side of the present quartet is to be removed to a spot where the sun no longer will affect it. Those to be demoted are Mark Koenig, shortstop ,and Gene Robertson and Joe Dugan, companionate third baseman. Those to be elevated are Leo Durocher and Mike Gazella at shortstop and third base respectively. Part of the proposed alteration went into effect yesterday with Gazella at third base. The full remodelling will be completed as soon as Lazzeri is able to return to second base Durocher being occupied at that position in the meantime. On paper the new infield lacks the punch of its predecessor—but only on paper.

Koenig isn't hitting the size of his wedding finger; Robertson is doing slightly better if at all. There is nothing the matter with Dugan's hitting but plenty the matter with Dugan's legs. He probably is putting in his last season as a regular. Robertson, however, is losing a lot of balls at third base and Huggins is faced with the necessity of doing something about it even if he has to return the spavined Dugan to the position.

As for Koenig, he has made 11 errors on this trip, more than the Giant team put together on their last western invasion and if any of them weren't costly. Huggins would like to know whose money is being used to pay the bill.

Yanks Go to Pieces.

In view of ineffective hitting and pitching the 50 per cent collapse of the infield and clownish catching, the abiding wonder of the day isn't the fact that the Athletics were able to pare down the Yankees' lead with their inspiring rush through the field but that the Yanks have any lead at all. They have played exactly 4.06 baseball since knocking the Athletics off in the series at the stadium dnring the first week of July.

Immediately thereafter they broke even in series with Washington and St. Louis, dropped a series to Detroit, won five straight from Cleveland, took a series from the White Sox, broke even with Boston, then were taken in succession by Detroit, Cleveland and St. Louis and finally got a stand off with Chicago yesterday.

Contrast this record with the fact that the Athletics have played at a clinking pace of .826 over the same period and you have half the answer to the present situation. The other half is those five straight the Yanks took from the Indians in mid-July. That circumstance alone has served to keep a ball club that temporarily or otherwise, has ceased to be a ball club, in first place.

SWIMMERS QUALIFY FOR FINAL ROUND

(International News Service)

AMSTERDAM, Aug. 8.—The United States won the Olympic water polo event this afternoon, defeating Malta. The score was 10 to 0.

In the semi-finals of the 100-meter back stroke swim three Americans took two firsts and a second. All three qualified for the final.

George Kojac, the youthful New York star, won the first heat in one minute and ten second, within four-fifths of a second of the world's record he set yesterday. Iriye of Japan took second place and Bresford of Great Britain took third, all qualifying for the final.

Walter Laufer of Chicago romped away with the second heat of the semi-final in one minute 12 3-5 seconds. Paul Wyatt of Uniontown, Pa., and Kuppers of Germany tied for second place in one minute 14 1-5 seconds.

All three American semi-finalists in the 400-meter free-style swim also qualified for the finals, although they did not place first in either heat.

The Argentinian, Zorrilla, won the first heat of the 400-meter semi-final in five minutes 11 2-5 seconds. "Boy" Charlton of Australia took second place and Ray Ruddy of New York placed third.

Arne Borg, the Swedish star, won the second heat in five minutes 5 2-5 seconds. Clarence Crabbe of Honolulu and Austin Clapp of Hollywood took second place in five minutes 6 1-5 seconds, and third in five minutes 6 4-5 seconds respectively.

SORDS POINTS

"Temporarily" May Mean a Long Time for Lena Blackburne

By JACK SORDS
Sports Cartoonist-Writer for Central Press and New Castle News.

The job of managing the Chicago White Sox, assigned to Lena Blackburne when Ray Schalk was relieved of his duties, seems to be his as long as he make a success of it. When Lena was appointed it was believed to be only a temporary arrangement and in a short time a more colorful name would be assigned to the post. But Lena is still the manager and the team has shown a lot of improvement under his guidance. He never won much fame as a player, but now is his chance as a manager.

Although Blackburne is not a "big name" man, which appears to mean so much these days, he knows enough baseball and has had enough experience to build one.

He brings to his new position 20 years experience in the minor and major leagues. He is now 42 years old and played his first professional game with Worcester of the New England league, as a shortstop in 1903. He was sold to the Provincetown club of the Eastern league in the fall and in August, 1909, was purchased by the White Sox.

Blackburne was going great in 1910 when an injury to his knee laid him low for a year. This marred his career as a player. He was sent to Milwaukee in 1912, returning to Chicago in 1914 as their third baseman. Since then he drifted about, coming back to the Sox last year as a coach.

Rumor Gene Tunney To Wed Girl Worth Over Fifty Million

Miss Josephine Lauder Said To Be Objective Of Sudden Retirement

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Aug. 8.—Gene Tunney retired as the world's heavyweight champion to marry a millionairess, according to a story by W. S. Farnsworth in the New York Evening Journal Tuesday.

"The conquerer of Jack Dempsey will wed next month in either Scotland or France," says the Journal story. "The young woman is Miss Josephine Lauder, of Greenwich, Conn. Miss Lauder is the daughter of the late George Lauder, Jr., who was affiliated with Andrew Carnegie in the steel business and who retired with a fortune said to be well over $50,000,000. She is just 21 and met Tunney while she was attending the exclusive Finch school here in New York City.

Tunney Books Passage

"Tunney has booked passage for abroad August 16. It is said that Miss Lauder and her mother will sail August 22.

"The Lauder home in Greenwich is one of the finest estates in Connecticut. Their summer home is at South Bristol, Maine and it is said that the many visits the champion made to Maine were not to hunt and fish, but to call on Miss Lauder.

"The Lauders make their home when in New York at the Drake Hotel. Tunney has called many times on Miss Lauder there. It is well known in Greenwich that the former champion was a welcome guest at the Lauder mansion.

Tunney's name has been linked with many prominent young women.

"One newspaper recently had him about to marry Sam Pryor's sister. Mr. Pryor is one of Gene's closest friends, fought side by side with him in the world war, and everything was O. K. with the story except that the former Miss Pryor was married to another gentleman only a year ago.

Kid Cupid Lands Kayoe

"During his winter vacation at Miami it was reported that Tunney was to wed Miss Carolyn Bishop, of Hollywood. Both Tunney and Miss Bishop have since denied the story.

"When Tunney announced his retirement, probably with a million or a million and a half, he said that he was quitting because he had all the money he needed and that he did not like the game. There is no doubt that Gene does not like the game, but knowing him as well as this writer does, he could not make us believe that he was spurning the opportunity to increase his fortune except for some other motive—marriage.

"Where Dempsey and Heeney failed, Kid Cupid landed the knockout punch."

Miss Lauder "Hiding".

NEW YORK, Aug. 8.—While the public awaited eagerly the official announcement of the reported coming marriage of Gene Tunney, retired world's heavyweight champion, Shakespearian scholar and millionaire, to Miss Josephine Lauder, heiress to steel millions, the future bride was said to be "in hiding" today from the eyes of the curious.

Though the former champion had been "keeping company" with Miss Lauder for two years, his retirement from the ring to marry was a secret until published by the New York Evening Journal yesterday.

Close friends of Miss Lauder said she is preparing her trousseau for her marriage in her ancestral home in Dunfermline, Scotland, for which she will sail on August 25.

Nothing To Say.

At the Lauder summer home in South Bristol, Me., those of the family who are there refused to answer the telephone.

"Nothing to say, neither yes nor no," was the statement Miss Lauder delivered to messengers sent out by the telephone operators at South Bristol in answer to calls from New York.

Floyd E. Barbour, secretary to Miss Lauder, when seen at the Lauder home in Greenwich, refused to deny or confirm reports of the engagement, but admitted that "they were on the right track, that the reports had been discussed in the household."

"I am not going to say that Miss Lauder will not be married this year. When she does decide to marry, it will be announced in the proper manner."

Pittsburgh Pirates Within Striking Distance Of Second Place Now

YANKEES WIN; ATHLETICS LOSE

International News Service Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK, Aug. 8.—With 22 victories in their last thirty starts, the Pittsburgh Pirates today are within striking distance of the Cubs and Reds and may even nose out the New York Giants for second place in the National League scamble. The 1927 champions have advanced to within three games of the first division.

Burleight Grimes, the first pitcher in either league to register twenty victories beat Brooklyn yesterday, 4 to 3, and the Bucs made it a perfect day when Russell won a 3 to 2 decision from the Dodgers in the nightcap, a twelve inning affair.

Deadlocked at one victory apiece in the present series, the league-leading Cardinals meet the Giants in the rubber contest today. Nicking Rhem and Johnson for seven hits and eight runs in the eighth inning, the McGravian mob swamped the Cardinals in the second game, 10 to 1, and cut the Cards' lead to 5½ games. Larry Benton, New York's best pitching bet, chalked up his eighteenth victory, and Lindstrom batted in five runs.

Burt Shotton's revamped young Phillies stretched their sensational winning streak to three games by trimming the Cubs again, 4 to 2.

A Clouting Thomas

Will history repeat itself, and will a member of the United States Olympic boxing team win a world's amateur title, come home and later turn professional, and then rise to heights as great in the field of paid glove-wielders as he did when his only rewards for leather-pushing were medals and watches—and trips to Europe?

Tommy Lown, one of New York's own boys, proved to be the foremost contender of all the boxers who took part in the A. A. U. meet in Boston last spring. He won in the welterweight class, retaining the national title which he had held for the two preceding years, and showed so much class that folks wondered if he could not defeat Joe Dundee, the present world's welterweight champion. That he will win at Amsterdam is taken for granted, for, according to Spike Webb, the United States coach, he has the Olympic style of fighting down pat, is a finished boxer and an open, clean hitter, not the holding, slinching type of battler so often found in the American style of milling. "Spike" rates Lown as a much better fighter than any welter he took to the 1920 games at Antwerp or the 1924 Olympics in Paris.

But will Tommy Lown turn pro if he wins at Amsterdam, and capitalize on his prowess as Frankie Genaro, a 1920 Olympic champion and Fidel La Barba, a 1924 winner, did on theirs? He doesn't want to turn pro if he can help it as he is very much interested in running a big summer camp for the training of boys, and thinks professional fighting would interfere with this work. Tom also has a very fine singing voice.

George Hoffman, A. A. U. heavyweight champion, couldn't wait until after the Olympics to turn professional, and so lost a fine trip to Europe and the honor of winning points for his country at Amsterdam.

Tunney Is Becoming Real Copy

By NORMAN E. BROWN
Sports Writer for Central Press and New Castle News.

It begins to look as though this fellow Gene Tunney—you remember him as heavyweight champion—is going to be bettey "copy" as an "ex" than as an active ring figure.

Scarcely a day goes by but what someone doesn't shed new light on his career, his eccentricities and probably future.

Along comes one story that a ham and egg sparring partner knocked him plumb goofey in an informal setto at Speculator, N. Y., while training for his battle with Jack Dempsey last September.

It seems the partner butted Gene over the eye with his head and then slammed one to the stalwart one's jaw, which sent Gene into a semi-dazed condition from which he didn't recover for days.

Now not a word of such a calamity was breathed at the time. This despite the fact his camp swarmed with sport writers, most of whom know good copy when they see or hear of it. This, also, despite the fact that the gentleman who smacked Mr. Tunney for a row of incoherent matterings on the relative merits of Shakespeare and Nick Carter would be very apt to talk about the matter.

It seems the two blows were severe enough in their results to prompt Tunney to plan an early retirement from the ring. In fact he is quoted as saying that he hadn't fully recovered when he met Dempsey—that one of the pokes Dempsey took at his head in the seventh round finally cleared his brain.

We'll tell the world those punches must have cleared it if there were any clouds floating about. For the world agrees that Mr. Tunney done some rapid thinking about that time. Planned a whole 1,500-meter run which kept him out of Jack's way the rest of the round.

And then the tip comes out that Tunney is going to become a New York banker when he returns from his bunion building outing with Thornton Wilder.

He's going to talke a daily workout with bonds, interest, accruals, debentures, loans and whatever else comes the way of a bank president.

If Gene Tunney ever does enter one of those nice mahogany conference rings in a secluded corner of a marble warehouse, it'll take more than an introduction from Tex Rickard or Billy Gibson to float a loan on an open-air fight.

The invention for more war machines merely strengthens our resolve to join the cavalry next time.

Several Stars On Card Monday

O'Leary, Dunn, Cavelli, Tomaskey, Pacelli And Others To Box

LOOKS AS THOUGH THERE'LL BE KAYO

Dick O'Leary, who formerly fought under the name of Jackie Britton, and Johnny Dunn, the Erie boy who walloped the tar out of Joe Boychan; Carl Cavelli, who fought Willie Davies, and Andy Tomaskey, who has battled Pete Nebo, and other vaunted stars of the ring are coming to New Castle Monday night to stage a knockout jamboree at the Jolly bowl.

This was determined last night when the four battlers sent signed contracts to the Jolly bowl and it looks as though the element which favors knockouts will see action and one or two stretched on the floor.

O'Leary has fought all the good ones and only last week rolled Eddie O'Dowd for a count of nine in a Columbus ring and if Eddie lives until he is 100 he will never forget the sharp shooting right that rolled him in the ring dust.

Dunn shot his left hand so often into the face and midriff of Joe Boychan that fans wondered how he could take it all and survive, but the fact remains that Boychan is an iron boy and literally eats punishment.

Romeo Pacelli, the classy little punching machine from the South Side, will stack up against rugged Bobby Belford. Harry Lebo will box Tom O'Leary, and Roy Minteer and Tony Icone will battle in another bout.

Three Different Decisions.

Three different decisions were given in the Vivio-Belmont fight Monday night. Tom Blake gave the fight to Belmont, Tom Jones called it a draw and Referee Chip gave the fight to Vivio. Personally the writer believes that had Belmont not kept after Mr. Vivio there wouldn't have been any fight.

Jimmie Dime, the old master of sock, has returned from the Heeney-Tunney fight and a tour of the east and efforts are being made to secure Kid Cangie to fight Freddie Fitzgerald, Johnny Hayes or some other good boy.

A few nights ago Maxie Strub agreed to come here but when Mr. Dime could not be located so articles could be signed another bout had to be arranged. Strub is so busy he cannot come here until September. He is a great fighter.

Emmett Rocco, the heavyweight, recently underwent an operation for the removal of his tonsils and is weak but when he recovers his strength he will appear at the bowl, according to his manager, Joe Cumo.

GRAYS COMING HERE SATURDAY

to stage a twilight game with Ed Harvey's Beaver Falls Elks.

The return of the Homestead Grays cannot help but prove popular as in the three games which they have played at Centennial field this season, the fans have seen some mighty interesting baseball.

The prowess of the Homestead Grays does not need any explanation as they have been appearing in New Castle for several seasons and never yet have they failed to please the fans who turn out for the games.

The New Castle team has gained one victory in three starts with Cum Posey's classy aggregation, that being in the first setto of the string. Earl Mosley outpitched Sam Streeter to win 5 to 3, the victory being made safe when the New Castle lads scored four runs in the eighth inning when it looked as if the Grays would capture the decision. But the great array of star talent which Posey has on his pay roll this season could not connect for more than seven singles while New Castle obtained 10 and victory.

The second game went to the Grays 6 to 2, Oscar Owens triumphing over Charley Ketchum and the Grays also took the third battle, 9 to 3. "Smoky Joe" Williams being more effective than Newberry and Gibson who hurled for the locals. All of the games were hard fought affairs and the fans saw the Grays sluggers, particularly John Beckwith produce one of his famous home run smashes, he fencing the ball at a point near center field, the crash being the longest that has ever been made at Centennial field. Feats of this character make the Homestead Grays the fine attraction they are and their visit next Saturday afternoon will result in another large crowd turning out.

Croton Defeats Christians 3-1

The Croton M. E. team came out of their slump on Tuesday night at the Croton field and downed the First Christians 3 to 1, in a New Castle Church League encounter.

The game was tightly played in every inning, with Blaine limiting the Christians to two hits and fanned five men. The Christians used J. Campbell and Sergent on the hill, and they allowed but four hits between them.

Miller had the only extra-base hit of the game.

N. Y. STOCKS

NEW YORK, Aug. 8.—General Motors and a few other speculative leaders were under selling pressure at the beginning of trading today as the result of widely circulated rumors that Pierre S. DuPont would announce his resignation as chairman of the board of the General Motors Corporation, to aid Governor Smith's candidacy. Continued unsettlement in the money market was a contributing cause of the reactionary tone of the market, but on the whole prices held fairly steady, and losses rarely exceeded two points in the first hour.

In Wall Street it was said that the tightness in call money was due to the withdrals of funds by the out-of-town banks rather than the New York institutions. Credit demands of the agricultural and industrial districts should increase from now on, and the fact that some of the commission houses are borrowing six months' time money at 6 per cent. Is an evidence that they look for no important softening of short-term money rates over the next few months. The call loan renewal rate was 6½ per cent.

Stocks of the technically-cornered specialties, like Warner Brothers and Montgomery Ward had little difficulty in maintaining current quotations. Both the Durant and [illegible] are reported to be interested in the sensational upward movement in Warner Brothers which is based on prospective rather than on current earnings of the company. The Radio Corporation reported net surplus of $4, 524,779 in the first half of 1928, and in this company, potential rather than actual earnings is the [illegible] remarkable advance of the stock on the big board.

Eckbert, who was secretary and treasurer of the Carter Oil Company until about 15 years ago, was born at Milton, Pa. His retirement followed the removal of the company's offices to Sistersville, W. Va.

Ohio Operators Given Offer By United Miners

UNITED MINERS OFFER PROPOSAL

(International News Service)

COLUMBUS, O., Aug. 8.—An effort to reopen idle Ohio coal [illegible] with union labor on a basis of the Garfield scale paying $5.70 a day was under way today by officials of the Ohio United Mine Workers, according to G. W. Savage, secretary.

"Although it cannot be said definitely that operators will accept the proposal," Savage said, "the official board feels confident that several of the independent operators will accept and begin operations in the mines within a short time."

As this information was given out, George K. Smith, secretary of the Ohio Coal Operators Association, declared that "he had heard nothing of it, and doubted very much if any members of the association will."

"In my opinion this is another display of lack of sincerity by the officers of the Ohio union miners," said Smith, "I don't see how any operator can afford to pay the Garfield scale, when other mines are operating on the $5 wage. Nothing but a competitive scale will enable operators to use union miners without losing thousands of dollars."

East Side Store Owner Blames Flood Loss On District Sewer Condition

Residents on East Washington street below Arlington avenue say that excessive damage done by rains in that neighborhood is caused by the lack of proper sewerage system and that water filled cellars were not the resultant of street drain, according to several residents of that district.

The store of J. H. Winter which is located on the corner of East Washington street and Arlington avenue suffered perhaps the heaviest losses during the recent flood waters. Much merchandise stored in the cellar was a total loss, according to the statement of Mr. Winter, and about $900 worth of goods appraised at wholesale values are unsaleable. This loss, Mr. Winter thinks, the City of New Castle should bear.

Mr. Winter declares that the sewerage is of such a nature that the water backs up into the cellars of the district. In his store cellar there was over four feet of water in the recent heavy rainfall. On nearby streets, Arlington avenue, for example, the conditions were not so bad as the sewers are larger and more able to take care of the water.

For a block down the street, from Arlington, water filled the cellars. At the Hennon and Whieldon Hardware store about $20 damage was done, according to the statement of the owners, and several hours were required to clean the cellar out for use again.

In the case of Mr. Winter who seems to be the only one claiming damages, in addition to the merchandise that was a total loss, there are many boxes of goods that are now unsaleable though they are in a good condition. Papers have dropped from the canned goods and the cans have started rusting on the outside. People will not accept these cans because they think they are old or perhaps they believe the contents are damaged.

Bars of soap that were soaked, tissue paper and scores of other articles which were rain soaked and are now in a usuable condition are unsaleable said Mr. Winter.

Mr. Winter thinks that in view of the facts that the city should help with the loss that he has sustained on account of what he says is an inefficient sewerage system.

Roaming Round With Richards

Some News, Some Views, But Mostly Just Observations Of Interesting Things Around New Castle

The weather which has been prevailing for the past week or so is not the kind that draws one to the city, but occasionally an errand does that thing, and if you think it is hot on the back porch, pity the lad who has to live in downtown Pittsburgh.

The heat seems to be rubberized down there for it bounces off the sidewalk and hits you smack dab in the face. A dry collar lasts until you get around the corner and from that on it resembles a section of a turkish towel that has just come out of the damp wash.

The hot weather has had no effect upon the prices of meals in the hotels there, except to push them up a bit. The only thing they lack is a shield, or crest for the table linen and they can have this suggestion free. Crossed guns on a field of saddles, rampant, with that ancient Latin motto up in the corner. "In Hoc Signo Stickem." Which being translated into lower English means, "cut 'em deep and let 'em bleed."

If some of the cows out in Slippery Rock township knew what their sons and daughters were bringing as steaks in the city hotels, they would certainly insist upon being fed in plush filled stalls by attendants who wore plug hats.

The easy way in and out of Pittsburgh now is straight down the Valley without crossing the bridge at Sewickley, and in through Ben Avon, and Bellevue. You knew it all the time of course, but the suggestion is offered for anybody who didn't know. Always helpful is one of the guiding stars of this colyum.

For a moment I thought it was Diogenes looking for an honest man and apparently he had found him for the lamp was out. Closer inspection showed it to be Attorney Charley Martin with a camp lamp that needed some tinkering.

Charley is modest about his camp. All he clams for it is that it is the nicest thing east of Atlantic City and north of Palm Beach. The Slippery Rock Creek pauses long enough at this camp to murmur a paen of appreciation for the handiwork of Nature and the sun casts its most effulgent glow on it. And as for the shade, it's the thickest shade in the county, spiced with the odors of hemlock and spruce. And thanks for the invitation Charley.

This story may not be true. Not all stories are of course, but it is one of Tom Dickey's. While the parade of the Scottish Rite members was on this morning, a stranger from out Washington Township way queried Mr. Dickey about it. "What's the parade about," asked he. Turning around Mr. Dickey replied, "It's a parade of the Masons." Pausing for a moment the stranger asked another. "Why a parade today, they're getting twelve dollars a day."

It's a big day in Cascade Park. The boys and girls from eighteen or twenty counties are here for the shindig and half the afternoon will be spent in shaking hands. And circulating around with that expansive smile of his will undoubtedly be Denny Reiser of New Kensington, the man with a million friends.

SENSE AND PUBLICITY.

At the British Empire Cancer conference a thoughtful American, Dr. George Soper, managing director of the American Society for the Control of Cancer appealed to doctors to take newspapers into their confidence. Physicians have long been critical of the daily press feeling that newspaper editors do not frequently have the scientific mind and are too often thoughtless of the effect of ill-considered publicity on patients or possible patients.

As a matter of fact much of the failure of the newspapers to carry accurate reports of developments in the world of medical science is due to the lack of co-operation with physicians. There is remote possibility that newspaper makers may be found who are capable of exercising judgment and common sense in giving publicity to scientific developments which ought for the good of the whole number to receive publicity. It more doctors were less crabby and more confidential more people might be benefited. Or perhaps it doesn't matter.

CHICKEN SALAD.

Kansas City has been having a bit of a row on the good points if any, of chicken salad. Three hundred and twenty-five employes at a big hospital were served chicken salad not long ago and became acutely ill. Whereupon the city director of health says chicken salad is not healthful in warm weather anyhow. Along comes the commissioner of inspection and sanitation who allows that if the meat is fresh, chicken salad is all to the good. He thinks he knows his salads. All of which probably could be settled by the wise conclusion that it isn't so much what you eat but how much. You can probably prosper on eating almomst anything you like if you will remember that the tummy is a small organ, csapable of much distension. So is a toy balloon a small affair capable of distension but think what happens to a toy balloon.

COLLEGE AND CHARM.

Comes somebody now who says college should be a charm school. Right enough, if charm can be taught. It's a beautiful thing. No substitute for charm. Along with the capacity for playing the ukelele and the banjo driving a roadster and talking so-called snappy English which nobody ever saw in a book, the sweet girl graduate really ought to take on a little charm if such is to be had.

Money isn't everything. The Yankees have the money, but they can't hire a maid, cook, laundress and nurse for $2.50 a week.

Census Bureau Estimates Made In Simple Fashion

(Special To The News)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 8.—New Castle's estimated population for 1928 will be approximately 52,500, exclusive of annexations within the last two years, according to the method used by the census bureau in obtaining its estimates.

The bureau revealed its method today following stories appearing in New York City and Cleveland, O., newspapers concerning 1928 estimates for those cities.

The official estimates will not be made public for several weeks but the hullabaloo raised by the New York and Cleveland papers because of the estimate stories resulted in the bureau showing that any school child, supplied with the 1925 and 1926 estimates, can figure the thing out by simple arithmetic.

Here's how it is done: Subtract the 1925 figure from the 1926 estimate, multiply that result by two (representing the year 1927 and 1928). Then you have the 1928 estimated census, whereby New Castle is credited with 52,406, an increase of 1706 in two years, or 858 a year.

New Castle's 1926 estimated population was 50,700 and its 1925 figure was 49,842.

Radiator Plant Has Concrete Walls Around Entrances Where Water Entered

Following the recent flood a few weeks ago, the National Radiator company of East Washington street have finished constructing cement walls two feet high in front of all the doors leading into the plant.

The doors have been raised accordingly and the elevated space before the doors have platforms built in front.

The flood some time ago which swept down over the hill from Washington street and flooded the plant causing a two day shut off of operations was forced through the doors of the plant as they were on the level with the ground.

According to superintendent E. L. Brundage, these new cement abuntments will keep all future waters from entering the pla-

Rogers Gives Out Secret Hoover Is to Know Saturday

(Special To The News)

BEVERLY HILLS, Cal., Aug. 8.—A reassuring wire from Mrs. Stone says Fred is getting along fine. That's great news.

Here is a secret, but don't let it out. They are going to tell Hoover Saturday that he is to go into the finals against Al.

His speech is to be shortened to 45 minutes. That's a long time for a man just to say, "I am proud that my country has chosen me for their standard bearer and I hope that I will be able to live up to that high standard."

I see where Coolidge this morning says that Hoover will win.

Cal has to issue almost a sensational statement nowadays to get in the papers. He can catch a whale now and never even land on the editorial page.

Yours,

WILL.

PA NEWC OBSERVES

With the announcement that the fine new Central Fire Station on South Jefferson street is to be occupied tomorrow by the Central Department, there is left as a problem for the city council, the use of the East street building, which is being abandoned. For many long years it has been used as a fire station. Councilmen are reticent as to the probable use of the old building. There have been many suggestions and recommendations. One of these was that it be used as a central building for the charity agencies of the city; another that it be used for work in connection with the police department, another that it be converted into a municipal lodging house, another that it be used for other city departments, and there is also a possibility that the building will be leased for commercial purposes. No definite action has as yet been taken by council in the matter however.

Pa Newc was rather surprised while walking along Washington street yesterday to see an aged lady, one who had the appearance of being eighty at least, dropping a penny in one of the fortune telling machines that line the street here and there.

Workmen have started laying the concrete on Norwood avenue. This paving construction will be completed in a few days, but the street will not be open for traffic for several weeks.

One New Castleite has become so accustomed to carrying an umbrella this summer that even today when the sun gave every appearance of being out for the day, he boarded a street car carrying the old reliable rain protector.

New Castle Traction Company apparently has ample evidence that New Castletes are travelling this summer. Tokens from various cities are being found in the fare boxes. Pa Newc has received two from car operators recently that didn't belong in New Castle. Both had "N" in the centre however. One was from Norfolk, Virginia, and the other was from Akron, Ohio, being a taken used by the Northern Ohio Traction Company.

Yesterday in this column there was a mention of the double parking rule. Drivers of bread and ice cream trucks appear to be the worst offenders. They seem to stop when they please, where they please and park as long as they please.

All is not roses, and interviewing beautiful actresses on a newspaper. Yesterday, Pa Newc walked three blisters on his left foot and the prospects are good for the right one today again or tomorrow for that matter.

Pa strolls into the churches that are being painted most every day and watches the painters a few seconds. If you have an artistic soul and five minutes of spare time, take a look at the First Presbyterian church in the interior. How they do it is beyond us. The contracting boss said that painting was a worthless necessity if it did not improve and strengthen the architecture as well as beautify it by coloring. He

Tropical Storm Causes Extensive Property Damage

CITIZENS WARNED TO BE PREPARED

(International News Service)

ATLANTA, Ga., Aug. 8.—Wire communication to West Palm Beach was badly crippled today following a tropical storm which whipped the Florida mainland from Palm Beach to Jupiter with hurricane fury and caused extensive property damage.

The storm subsided at the Palm Beaches last midnight only to move northward up to East Coast in the direction of Daytona Beach, where citizens were warned to be on their guard today.

Seventy Hour Wind

A torrential rain drenched the Palm Beaches and the city was plunged in darkness as the power houses were put out of commission by the gale.

The streets were littered with torn up trees, shrubbery, huge signs and anything else which the 70 miles an hour wind could pick up.

No deaths were reported from the affected area, and only one person was injured in Palm Beach when he came in contact with a live wire in the street.

Daytona Beach early today reported no visible sign of a disturbance except for heavy seas.

George Brennan Noted Illinois Democrat Dies

(International News Service)

CHICAGO, Aug. 8.—George E. Brennan, Democratic leader of Illinois, died here today following a week's illness of septic poison and complications of kidney trouble. He was 63 years old.

The Democratic chieftain passed away at John B. Murphy Hospital at 8 o'clock this morning surrounded by members of his family and a few intimate friends. He had been unconscious most of the night. During brief lucid spells he was too weak to speak to those about him.

Complications Arise

Mr. Brennan was stricken a week ago with septic poisoning following the extraction of two ulcerated teeth. For several days his life was despaired of, but an emergency operation to drain off the poison was performed and the patient rallied.

His improved condition gave rise to hopes that he would eventually recover.

Late yesterday, however, complications arising from a serious kidney disorder developed and physicians realised that the end was near.

Mr. Brennan is survived by his widow and one child, a daughter, Mary. They have been in constant attendance and were at the bedside when the end came. Former Mayor William E. Dever and other lifelong personal and political friends were frequent callers at the sickroom.

Blow To Smith

NEW CASTLE WOMAN SEES CYCLONE WHILE IN IOWA

"I'll take Pennsylvania," this was the statement of Mrs. T. C. McCracken, who lives east of the Seventh ward, upon her arrival here yesterday following a six weeks visit in Iowa, even though Iowa was her home in girlhood. The reason for the statement was one terrorizing cyclone that Mrs. McCracken witnessed at Corning, Iowa.

Mrs. McCracken was in the vicinity about a mile away from the scene of the cyclone at Corning. She watched the clouds forming and remained watching until danger approached and then all took to the cyclone cellar.

Every family, according to Mrs. McCracken, has what they call a cyclone cellar. "It is nothing other than a round pit in the ground built of brick with a pointed roof with a pipe sticking out for ventilation. When they see the clouds forming and then suddenly turn whirling and start in one direction, all know that it is time to depart for the pit.

The cyclone leaves a swath wherever it goes. This particular Corning

Hoover To Make Biggest Campaign In Eastern States

CANDIDATE COMING EAST AFTER SATURDAY

Will Return To Washington Immediately After Notification Ceremonies

By WILLIAM K. HUTCHINSON.
International News Service Staff Correspondent

STANFORD UNIVERSITY Cal. Aug. 8.—A Repqblican victory in the 1928 presidential race, as viewed by Herbert Hoover today through the eyes of his political advisers, rests on the outcome in New York, Massachusetts and New Jersey.

This represented a concensus of the political forecasts given the Republican nominee in the month since he left his desk in the Department of Commerce. The nominee was said personally to feel that his party would return its normal majorities in the far west, the mountain states, the farm belt and the middle west and that the big battle iles along the Atlantic seaboard.

To Campaign in East.

With this in mind, Hoover will return to Washington after his notification here next Saturday and spend the remaining time on the actual battleground.

The nominee's closest advisers have convinced him that he will win the election easily if he carries New York, Massachusetts and New Jersey. In fact he has said to feel that Republican victory in any two of these three states would result in his election to the presidency.

Hoover has been told he can win without New York but that in order to do so he must win all the normally Republican states from Pennsylvania westward to the Pacific and capture some of the Democratic strongholds such as Missouri , Kentucky, Arizona, New Mexico and Montana and Nevada.

Battleground States.

In the Hoover lexicon, there are no "doubtful states" out of the "solid south." In addition to New York, New

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 8.—Missouri Democrats have turned thumbs down on U. S. Senator James A. Reed, it was apparent here today on the basis of returns from yesterday's primary elections, and the prohibition question raised by the veteran senator is not an issue.

The Missouri Democrats have nominated Charles M. Hay, St. Louis, as their candidate for the U. S. senatorship by a vote of landslide proportions over his opponent, James A. Collett of Salisbury, who was supported by Reed. But they turned around and nominated Francis M. Wilson, a wet, as their candidate for governor by an even larger majority than that given Hay.

All Italy Mourns For Tragic Death Of Crew Of Sub

POISONOUS GAS KILLS ALL OF CREW

Official Inquiry Into Naval Disaster To Be Made By Italy

(International News Service)

ROME, Aug. 8.—All Italy today mourned the death of 31 men trapped in the submarine F-14 when it sank in the harbor of Pola after a collision with a destroyer during naval manouveurs.

Rescuers had performed an almost superhuman feat in bringing the submarine to the surface thirty-four hours after it sank but poisonous gases inside the hull of the undersea craft had doomed the two officers and twenty-nine men of its crew hours before it reached the surface.

The submarine was raised by means of powerful cranes mounted on floating pontoons. Heavy seas hampered the rescue workers, but buoyed by hope that the crew of the submarine were alive after submarine telegraph communication had been established, they worked on, disregarding personal danger.

Signals Cease

A few hours before the submarine was finally raised at 6:30 p. m. (Italian Time,) the signals from the submarine ceased. Despite this ill-omen, the rescuers clung to the hope that the members of the ill-fated under-

Dr. John R. Straton Accepts Challenge Of Governor Smith

Governor And Famous Baptist Pastor In New York To Debate Issues

PASTOR'S CHARGES START CONTROVERSY

Meeting Of Two To Take Place Sometime During Week Of September 2

By RAYMOND I. BORST
International News Service Staff Correspondent

ALBANY, N. Y., Aug. 8.—There was a possibility today that Governor Al Smith will open his active campaign for the presidency early in September with a debate with the Rev. John Roach Straton, noted pastor of the Calvary Baptist church, New York City.

Charges Arouse Candidate

Deeply aroused because Dr. Straton from the pulpit of his church had pictured him as "the deadliest foe in America today of the forces of moral progress and true political wisdom," Smith called upon the New York clergyman to permit him to answer the charge from the same pulpit during the week of September 2.

Close friends of the Governor said today that the charges hurled at him by Dr. Straton have disturbed him more than anything else that has occurred since he was nominated for the presidency. They predicted the meeting between the executive and th clergyman would be one of the most dramatic incidents in America's political history.

Governor's Statement

"I do not know why you should make a statement of that kind, but I do know that I will never permit it to go unchallenged," the Governor wrote Dr. Straton. "I have spent twenty-five years in the service of the state in elective office and the record of that service is open to the public. I do not feel that I should charge you with making this statement for any political purpose as it was made in a church devoted to the teachings of Christ, one of which was 'Thou shalt not bear false witness against thy neighbor.'

"I therefore ask you in a spirit of American fair play to invite me to your church at any time that suits your convenience during the week inclusive and beginning September 2, and I ask you to make the same statement in my presence with such proof of its truth as you may be able to advance. I further ask that you permit me to make full reply. In order that you may not be ambarrassed I will permit you, if you choose, to conduct the meeting by question and answer. I will be ready to answer any question you may put to me which, in your opinion will in any degree tend to justify your remarks.

An Obligation

"For eight years I have been the Governor of the state of which you are a resident, and I am firmly convinced that you owe it to me to give me an opportunity to be heard before your own congregation on your statement that you made about my political career."

Pointing to the many improvements

Magnificent Banking Home And Business Block Is Completed

STRUCTURE HAS 150 ROOMS FOR OFFICES

Banking Quarters Are Large And Latest Ideas In Banking Home

Remodeling and enlargement of the quarters of the Lawrence Savings and Trust Company is rapidly nearing completion, and officers of the institution have selected Aug. 18 as the date on which the people of New Castle and Lawrence County will have their first opportunity to inspect at leisure the improvements which the bank has made for their service and convenience.

Most interesting of the changes in the banking room which is substantially larger than heretofore is the elimination of the customary grillwork and teller's cages. Instead of dealing with patrons through little wickets the employees of the bank will talk with their customers face to face across an unobstructed counter. This is a plan recently adopted in a number of banks and officers of the Lawrence Savings and Trust are confident that it will meet with the general approval of the public and contribute effectively to a better understanding between bank and public.

Handsome Banking Rooms .

This unusual arrangement, together with the beauty of the walnut trim and decorated plaster and the marble pavement, gives the institution one of the handsomest banking rooms to be found anywhere in a community of New Castle's size. The remodelling operations have included a new main entrance leading directly to the banking room which, with the vault enclosure at the rear is 180 feet deep.

Immediately at the left as you enter is the president's private office, with the officers' space beyond it. Then comes the savings department and beyond it a handsomely appointed ladies' room. At the right of the entrance and opposite the officers' and savings space is the commercial department with the trust department adjoining. A double row of handsome columns—ten in all—runs the length of the lobby at the rear of which is the safe deposit vault enclosure.

The vault itself, of steel-reinforced concrete construction, steel covered and steel lined, with a great circular door of Herring-Hall-Marvin

Coolidges Plan To Stay In Wisconsin For Another Month

(International News Service)

SUPERIOR, Wis., Aug. 8.—President and Mrs. Coolidge will remain in the north woods of Wisconsin until about September 10, it was learned today.

The excellent fishing on the Brule river and its adjoining lakes have proven so alluring for the executive that a decision has been made to stay at Cedar Island lodge a little longer than originally had been planned. The president also is particularly pleased with the completeness of the isolation he is enjoying.

The departure from the Brule is not expected to mark an immediate return to Washington, however. It has been two years since Mr. Coolidge has visited his boyhood home at Plymouth, Vt., and tentative arrangements now under consideration call for a trip from here direct to the Green mountains. If Plymouth is included in the itinerary of the return East, the president probably will get back to the National capital about September 25.

Thieves Enter Business Places

South Side Coal Company And Viaduct Garage Offices Entered

The strength of steel frustrated an attempted safe robbery at the South Side Coal Company's office early this morning when persons, gaining entrance to the office through a basement window, spent some time in a futile effort to get the safe open. The door handle of the box was twisted off during the attempt.

Although the thieves did not open the safe, their visit was not entirely fruitless, for in the office they gathered up hack saw blades, an emery wheel and a motor.

It is thought that the same persons later broke the window of the Viaduct garage, located at the intersection of Gardner avenue and Moravia street, and attempted to steal a car. Officers Lynch and Logan investigated both cases. As yet no arrests have been made in connection with them.

EVANSTON, Ill., Aug. 8.—The body of Miss Jennie Constance, 42, head of the English department of Bradley Polytechnical college of Peoria, was found at dawn today behind a hedge in front of the palatial home of George H. Peaks, Evanston millionaire.

She had apparently been beaten to death with a piece of lead pipe, after being mistreated by her assailant.

That the crime was committed by a moron, without the motive of robbery, was evidenced, police declared, by the fact that a valuable necklace lay beside the body and two rings remained untouched on her fingers.

And it's nice to sit in the bleacher seats, but the fun that we called immense, when were kids was to watch a game, through a knothole punched in the fence. We couldn't see all that the players did, and the fans often got in the way, but the thrill was there, just to see the field, and now and again see a play. It may have been cheap, but what could we do, we had little money to pay, we were knot hole fans of the rabid sort, it's ninety-two today.

Boys Pass Tests At Camp Phillips

Numerous Merit Badges Presented To Successful Scouts On Tuesday

Tuesday proved to be a very busy day for the scouts at Camp Phillips who immediately started to pass their scalp tests and required work. The following tests were passed today; Junior Brown, merit badges in carpentry and painting; Bob Jameson, merit badges in camping and bookbinding; Harry Shannon, merit badges in painting, woodwork and handecraft; Clyde Shannon, merit badges in painting, handecraft and electricity. The following boys passed parts of their second class test: Merle Bees, knife, axe and compass; Mac Close, knife, axe and observation; Frank Fareno, knife, axe and observation; Charles Hertzog, knife and axe; Paul Linnesly and Carl Lutz, knife, axe and observation; Harold Morrison, compass; David Lewis, knife and axe; John Succui, knife, axe and compass; Charles Lockhart, passed first class swimming. Many other scouts passed scalp requirements which are similar to the regular scout tests.

The high point scorer for the day was Charles Lockhart who scored 170 honor points, while John Succui came second with 165 honor points.

Both the morning and afternoon swims were held although the river is a little high and muddy from the recent rains. Several scouts are working on the merit badge life saving and are being instructed by Baldy Watson. As this is one of the hardest merit badges to pass some of the boys only need it to become Eagle scout.

At hard ball today a team picked by Bob Brown beat Junior Brown's team by a score of 12-5. Bob Jameson unpired the game. For the scouts that did not play ball archery was provided.

At colors tonight the wayseeker scalp, the first, was given to John Sucui and Merle Bees, that of pathfinder, the second scalp, to Charles Lockhart, while that of Junior Brown was presented the scalp of hunter, which is the fourth scalp.

The weather has been fine at the camp and the scouts are having a good time.

Jersey and Massachusetts, there are other "battleground states." This includes Connecticut, Rhode Island and Delaware on the Atlantic coast; the four border states, Maryland, Kentucky, Missouri and Oklahoma, Illinois, Michigan and Wisconsin in the middle west; Nebraska in the farm belt, because of the possible attitude of Senator George W. Norris, veteran insurgent leader; and Arizona, Montana, New Mexico and Nevada out where the west begins.

The Hoover management will enter the campaign hopeful of winning all the battleground states on the east coast. The Hoover leaders also expect to win Kentucky and Oklahoma and plan a real battle for Missouri. They look upon Illinois and Michigan as safely Republican, but intend to campaign both states as though the result were in doubt.

A special effort will be made to keep Wisconsin in the Republican column, but this plan will be abandoned if Senator Robert M. Lafollette comes out against Hoover. There will be free-for-all fights in Arizona, Montana, Nevada and New Mexico with the latter looked upon as surely Republican.

parked in Cascade Park, the vanguard of the crowd which is expected to crash all picnic records for the season here, thus far.

Out in the park the various committees are busy at work, taking care of their duties, and nothing seems to be lacking in the way of preparation. The side show tent is offering the wonders of the animal and human kingdom for the price of a dime ten cents, (step right inside ladie-e-e-es and gentlemen), the Legion of Honor has a headquarters for the patrols out through the park, and one tent is being guarded by a dog with a vivid yellow coat. This tent seems to be shrouded in mystery or yellow canvas or something of the kind.

Parade Big Success

At ten thirty this morning the street parade moved over the downtown streets of the city and the spectators seemed to think it was well worth watching. Two traffic policemen headed the line, followed by Uncle Sam on a high velocipede. Then a band on a high circus wagon, with Miss Columbia seated on a throne. Clowns of all descriptions, a ballet dancer mounted on a horse that looked like a blood relative of a dinosarus, a wild man gnashing his teeth and rending the air with his blood curdling shrieks, an organ mounted on a truck, Indians, cowboys, a covered wagon with some Puritan maids inside, a pack mule from the Days of '49, a long string of automobiles and the usual calliope.

It was a doggy parade sure enough, one that rivalled an old time circus parade but by the time the paraders got to the park they were somewhat damper than they were when they started.

Animals On Exhibition

One exhibit that is attracting much attention in the park is that furnished through the courtesy of H. J. Sines. Game Warden for seven western counties, Game Protector F. N. Johnson of this city, and Game Protectors, Harry Van Cleave of Coudersport, Chauncey Logue of Emporium, and Ray McKissick of Ligonier, Pa.

The exhibit contains 2 bear cubs, 3 raccoons, 2 beaver, a fawn deer, a horned owl, and 26 ring necked pheasants which were hatched out by a bantam hen. They will be kept in this county to hibernate here.

It looks like a wonderful day for a wonderful picnic. Dancing will attract the younger folks this afternoon and evening, and the various amusements will probably be busy. Commander-in-Chief William H. Dunlap is delighted with the prospects of success as is General Chairman C. Ed. Brown.

When Nobile writes his book the most gripping chapters doubtless will be the one explaining why a leader should accept rescue and leave his crew behind.

After interviewing the lady last night that witnessed the cyclone out in the middle-west, Pa Newc has decided that he'll take the hills and burnt orakes of Pennsylvania and leave the flat ground and cyclone cellars in Iowa to some one else.

Lawrence county can be justly proud of what building has been done and is being done. The two new banks are certainly beautiful examples of craftmanship and then there's the new hospital, hotel and so on.

A business man told Pa Newc yesterday that business was getting better. He said it was not a great percentage of increase but it was steadily noticeable and he thought that in a month there would be a big difference.

Three landing fields for a town the size of New Castle and a county the size of Lawrence is not such a bad record, we think. There are also several airplanes locally owned. By the way, Mr. Love takes a spin in his airplane every morning. He can manipulate it himself too.

Sometimes there seems to be no sense of rhythm in the things that parbers and many other people do. Tuesday afternoon, quite a crowd gathered in front of one of the down town barber shops. There was an attraction inside. A man with only a few stray fringes was getting a hair cut. On the top of his head, where hair used to be, there was nothing but fuzz. And the barber was clipping the fuzz off, so that the pate would be bald and shiny, with nothing to mar its symmetry.

The old patrol wagon at the police station has about wheezed its last. In fact, there are not many more miles left in the old bus. It was out Tuesday afternoon on a call, and from the reports of the officers, it had a hard time making it. But Pa Newc wonders how many drunks it has hauled to the station, and how many policemen and their brides that it has greeted after the marriage ceremony.

Tuesday evening Pa Newc was given a private showing of the corned beef and cabbage which is made by Chef Albert Reeg of The Castleton. Now he does not wonder why Jiggs fights for it. And Chef Albert Regg should get the prize, Pa Newc believes.

Tourists are coming from the west Tuesday afternoon J. R. Dice of Fargo N. D. stopped at the New Castle Motor club and asked for a routing through to New York and Atlantic City. These are two places that he has heard lots about he said and he wants to see them before anything happens to him. Fargo, western movie fans will remember is the starting point of the once famous Wells-Fargo pony express.

in the state's government, brought about during the eight years he has occupied the chair of chief executive, Smith told his confidants he is certain Dr. Straton cannot find anything in his political career that can possibly substantiate the charge that he is a foe of moral progress.

The Governor's advisers feel that a debate with Dr. Straton would afford him a splendid opportunity to launch his active campaign for the presidency. If Smith's friends have their way his debate with Dr. Straton, if it can be arranged, would be broadcast over a network of radio stations.

Accepts Challenge

New York, Aug. 8.—Dr. John Roach Straton, pastor of Calvary Baptist church in New York, today accepted the challenge of Governor Alfred E Smith to debate the charges made by Dr. Straton against Governor Smith in his sermon last Sunday which were summarized by the pastor with the statement that the Governor was "the best friend of the forces of reaction, immorality, vice and crime, in the land today," and "the deadliest foe of moral progress in America."

Dr. Straton at his summer home at Greenwood Lake, N. Y., issued a statement saying that "as a matter of fair play," he would repeat the sermon of Sunday to "Governor Smith's face and in his presence" giving him fully opportunity to reply.

Although perfectly willing to have it held in his church, Dr. Straton suggested that the debate, in view of the tremendous public interest it would arouse, be held in Madison Square Garden or some other large auditorium.

"Inasmuch as my message was a note of warning to the Southern Democracy which I love so well because I at one time lived in the South I believe it would be appropriate for Governor Smith to swing around the circle with me and debate in the South the issues raised by my sermon," Dr. Straton said.

"I feel deeply the tremendous danger in which the Southern Democracy has been placed by the astute political maneuvering of Governor Smith."

Dr. Straton suggested Baltimore, Richmond, Atlanta, Raleigh, Jacksonville, Louisville, St. Louis and Dallas be included in such a swing around the South.

LAWRENCE SAVINGS & TRUST CO. OPEN FOR INSPECTION AUG 18

construction is protected by an electric burglar alarm system which gives the whole a preferred insurance rating. The structure, which is unsurpassed in the city, houses 1,750 individual two-key lock boxes of the latest type. Adjoining the vault and within the handsome grille work which separates it from the main banking room, are five coupon booths for the convenience of safe deposit patrons.

Another feature of the remodelled banking rooms is a night depository safe for the convenience of patrons who find it inconvenient to come to the bank during regular hours. The main entrance to the Lawrence Savings and Trust building is now 223 Washington street. The travel department at No. 227 has not been interfered with by the alterations. The entrance between No. 225 gives access to the seven office floors above.

Hundred Fifty Rooms.

On these floors are 150 rooms which will be ready for occupancy by September 1st. High speed elevator service is provided from the building lobby and the bank will arrange and finish to suit the requirements of tenants. Applications for the space are coming in rapidly and by reason of its central location and ready accessibility the bank expects an increasing demand.

The Lawrence Savings and Trust Company is New Castle's oldest trust company, having been established in March, 1901. It has capital of $300,000.00 and surplus fund $500,000.00. Undivided profits $189,656..89. The latest statement showed deposits of more than $4,610,000 and aggregate resources of over $5,919,321.20. The bank is also serving as trustee for corporate bonds in the sum of more than $4,000,000.00.

Through its various departments—commercial, individual checking 3 per cent savings, certificates of deposit, Christmas Club, safe deposit, and trust, the institution is handling more than 23,000 separate accounts, exclusive of those of approximately 10,000 children, patrons of its school savings department.

Growing Business.

"The Lawrence Savings and Trust Company has remodelled and enlarged its quarters because the growing volume of its business made the providing of more room essential." F. A. Schulz, vice president and treasurer of the institution said yesterday in discussing plans for the formal opening.

"Naturally we have planned the changes in the interest of those whose patronage not only compelled them but also made them possible We want all New Castle to come in Saturday and see what we have done. We know our neighbors will be interested in our cageless banking room, our vault equipment and our office floors, and of course we hope they will approve."

Officers of the Lawrence Savings and Trust company are: E. E. McGill, chairman Board of Directors; Thomas H. Hartman, president; O. P. Brown, vice president; F. A. Schulz, executive vice president and treasurer; S. A. Weinschenk, secretary and assistant treasurer; A. W. Tindal, assistant secretary; W. K. Hugus, trust officer.

Directors include E. E. McGill, Thomas H. Hartman, O. P. Brown, Robert K. Aiken, A. D. Mornes, F. A. Schulz, B. F. Butler, G. G. Stitzinger, C. J. Kirk, Thomas Cooper, Dr. S. W. Perry, George F. Winter, Arthur M. Brown, C. C. Hall, George T. Weingartner.

the New York governor's forces since 1924.

Brennan's position as one of the strategists for Governor Smith was enhanced by developments at the June convention in Houston. He played an active part in the drive which brought victory for Smith on the first ballot, and was credited with a major portion of the maneuvering which led to Senator James A. Reed's ringing endorsement of the nominee from the platform in Sam Houston Hall.

Former Coal Miner

Brennan was born in New York state, in 1865. At twenty he came west and found employment in the mines around Braidwood, Ill. He studied between hours of labor below the surface and read constantly in his spare time.

In 1887 an accident in the mine necessitated amputation of a leg. Following his recovery he came to Chicago and interested himself in politics. He sold insurance and bonds, and his business prospered.

By 1903 he had become secretary of the executive committee of the state central committee of the Democratic party. In that year at Springfield he married Miss Jessie Fogarty. Two years later he became manager for the U. S. Fidelity & Guarantee Company of Maryland. He still held that position at the time of his death.

Had Rapid Rise

Meanwhile his political career advanced. He became Democratic committeeman from his ward.

In 1918, when Roger Sullivan died, Brennan inherited control of the Sullivan wing of the party. In 1922, he was accepted by Woodrow Wilson as the Democratic leader of the state. At the Democratic National convention of 1924 Brennan assumed leadership of the group which blocked the chances of William G. McAdoo to obtain the presidential nomination. It was generally conceded as a Brennan coup when James G. Davis was nominated, breaking the convention deadlock between Governor Al Smith of New York and McAdoo.

NEWCASTLE WOMAN SEES CYCLONE WHILE IN IOWA

cyclone swept a narrow path about a mile in length. Every building was destroyed; the buildings being unrecognizable and the boards broken into little bits of wood.

A barn was lifted up in the air and carried away some rods and completely demolished and a team of mules were left standing there unhurt. A few minutes previously they had been in a huge barn but now they were in the open air and the barn was but splinters of wood.

During the cyclone, said Mrs. McCracken, cattle and horses are picked up and carried some distance. After the storm dead cattle with broken backs, heads and crushed bodies may be seen lying through the fields. Chickens caught in the storm are stripped of all their feathers.

In some cases nothing is left of the vicinity after the blow has passed over, but they usually do some queer trick like leaving the mules standing with the barn blown away. Trees are stripped of their bark and the tops completely torn away while the trunk will still stand. The woven wire fences are wrapped in a ball, and in the Corning storm a line of barbed wire was found wrapped around a cow's head.

There are few lives lost during a cyclone, reported Mrs. McCracken. Most always, the storm is seen forming and approaching and the natives seek shelter. They may emerge a few seconds later with their entire household gone. All they can do is to "start all over again".

The neighbors are always sympathetic especially in the farming communities when some one has been deprived of their all and a collection is taken up to aid the loser to rebuild.

A storm may destroy buildings completely and leave another but a few hundred feet away standing safely and unharmed. It is but one of the tricks of the whirling cyclone, said Mrs. McCracken.

ALL ITALY MOURNS FOR TRAGIC DEATH OF CREW OF SUB

sea boat's crew had only been overcome by foul gases or had moved to the conning tower.

However, the amazing efforts of the rescuers had been in vain. All of the submarine's crew were dead.

Pending an official inquiry, it was assumed that chlorine gas was responsible for the asphyxiation of the entire crew of the submarine. All 31 bodies were found huddled in the rear position of the craft, leading to the belief that some of the trapped men attempted to escape through the torpedo tube.

It is believed that nine of the victims died Monday night and the rest yesterday afternoon with rescue near at hand.

When the submarine was brought to the surface, those who entered it were forced to wear gas masks, because of the poison fumes.

The F-14 sank at 8:45 a. m. Monday (Italian Time) it had suddenly appeared on the surface in the harbor of Pola, off Brioni Island, right under the bow of the destroyer—Guiseppi Missori. The collision followed. The submarine sank immediately in 131 feet of water but the destroyer was not badly damaged.

The officers who died in the submarine were Captain Weil and Commander Pasulo. Admiral Fischini was in charge of rescue operations.

The F-14 normally carried a crew of only 26 but several apprentice mechanics were aboard during the naval manouvers in which the submarine was taking part when it sank.

POLA, Aug. 8.—The Italian submarine F-14 which was sunk in the Adriatic sea with the loss of 31 lives, after it had been in collision with the destroyer Giuseppi Missori, was towed into port this morning supported by a 20-ton pontoon.

A black flag was flying at half mast at the vessel's brow.

This whole city was in mourning for the 31 dead. The men were found asphyxiated from poison gas when the submarine was floated and opened.

TROPICAL STORM CAUSES EXTENSIVE PROPERTY DAMAGE

of the Mallory liner Algonquin, reported in danger of going aground during a hurrican off the East coast of Florida, saying that "everything was all right."

The message said:

"Algonquin, crew and passengers in Florida Straits. Was blowing hurricane. Everything all right.

At the offices of the steamship company it was said that the request for bearings by the Algonquin evidently had been misinterpreted to make it appear that the liner was in distress. It was said that during storms it was usual for commanders of vessels to get in touch with naval radio stations to get their exact bearings and information on the weather prospects.

Most of Danger Over.

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla., Aug. 8.—Shaken by the force of an angry gale that came out of the night, the Palm Beaches today breathed with relief as gentler winds and clearer skies indicated that most of the danger from the threatened tropical hurricane was past.

As darkness fell last night the winds had whipped out of the west at a 50-mile an hour rate. This morning only a gentle breeze came from the south.

Damage Not Heavy.

The city was without lights, and through the night many of the residents sat in darkness helplessly awaiting the whim of the storm as it whipped sheets of rain to the ground along with power lines and wires, trees, shrubbery and parts of roofs.

A hurried inspection of the damage today indicated that it was comparatively light. Valuable palm trees were torn or uprooted, sign boards swept down, windows broken and a few small boats were damaged.

The show places of the wealthy here, and their mansions, were already boarded up for the summer and they suffered little damage, although tremendous seas swept over Ocean boulevard.

No fatalities were reported early today. Two persons were rescued from a precarious position when the gale overturned a small boat in which they were sailing, and a power company lineman was severely shocked when a broken live wire fell on him.

The city this morning is littered with broken branches and other objects which were tossed about by the wind. It presents a rather bedraggled appearance, but seems little hurt otherwise. When the storm broke last night, it looked like another September, 1926, hurricane but after galloping around ruthlessly for about five hours it moved further north.

Towns north of here were cut off from the Palm Beaches and the damage there, if any, was not known here.

The Story Of Our War With Spain
Cervera Reaches Santiago de Cuba

REACHING PORT DE FRANCE, ISLAND OF MARTINIQUE, ON MAY 11, 1898, AFTER HIS DASH ACROSS THE ATLANTIC, THE SPANISH ADMIRAL CERVERA LEARNED THAT AN AMERICAN FLEET WAS IN CUBAN WATERS LOOKING FOR HIM. HE AGAIN PUT TO SEA, STEAMED TO THE SOUTHWEST, AND MAY 14 ARRIVED AT THE DUTCH ISLAND OF CURACAO IN THE CARIBBEAN.

CERVERA'S SHIPS CARRIED MUNITIONS AND STORES FOR THE SPANISH FORCES IN HAVANA, AND HE WISHED TO REACH THE PORT OF CIENFUEGOS ON THE SOUTHERN COAST OF CUBA, FROM WHENCE A RAILROAD RAN TO THE CAPITAL.

INTERNATIONAL LAW FORBADE HIM REMAINING MORE THAN TWENTY-FOUR HOURS IN A NEUTRAL PORT, AND THE NEXT DAY, WITH HIS COAL BUNKERS NEARLY EMPTY, CERVERA STARTED FOR CIENFUEGOS. AT THAT TIME SCHLEY'S SQUADRON HAD NOT YET ROUNDED THE WESTERN END OF CUBA, AND CERVERA COULD HAVE REACHED THE DESIRED POINT IN SAFETY.

BUT THE SPANISH ADMIRAL WAS UNAWARE OF THIS AND, FEARING THAT THE AMERICAN FLEET MIGHT HEAD HIM OFF BEFORE HE COULD REACH HIS DESTINATION, SUDDENLY CHANGED HIS COURSE AND RAN INTO THE HARBOR OF SANTIAGO ON THE EAST COAST OF CUBA, MAY 19TH.

TOMORROW—SCHLEY SEEKS CERVERA.

Tunney Says Sharkey Should Beat Dempsey If They Meet Again

Gene Tunney, Retired, Undefeated Champion, Favors Sharkey In Return Bout

Makes Prediction In Interview With Three Youngsters, Visiting Lauder Home

By FRANK REILLY
International News Service Special Correspondent
(Copyright 1928 International News Service)

SOUTH BRISTOL, Me., Aug. 13.—If Jack Sharkey and Jack Dempsey meet in the ring again, Sharkey will be the victor, Gene Tunney has predicted.

Stepping outside the cloak of his retirement and his new role of husband-to-be of a $50,000,000 heiress, the retired heavyweight champion of the world talked of prize fights, intellectual training and college education.

Tunney's prognostications and his fatherly advice were not given in any interview. They were part of a social visit which three local boys made to the Lauder estate on John's Island, upon invitation of the retired world's heavyweight champion.

The youths so honored were Louis Hatch, Jr., 14, his brother Phillip, 12, and Melvin Thompson, 13. The brothers are sons of the captain of a boat plying between the islands of this town. Thompson is the son of the local ice man.

Tunney At Breakfast

They just wanted to "see Tunney," as has an army of newspapermen camped hereabout the past few days. The difference was that Tunney wanted and was willing to see them.

So upon invitation of "Polly" Lauder's fiance, who heard of their wishes, they were taken to the champion's island retreat today aboard the Lauder speedboat.

Tunney was at breakfast when they were shown in by Capt. Al Harrington, major domo of the guards.

"Hello," said Gene, "Mighty glad to see you."

He shook hands with each as Harrington introduced them.

"Do you like boxing?" Gene asked.

"Sure," the three boys chorused.

"Well, who do you think would win if Dempsey and Sharkey fought again?"

This was a "sticker" for the local youths.

"Who do you think would win?" Louis Hatch countered.

"I think Sharkey would win," answered Tunney, "because Dempsey hasn't been in the ring for so long.

"Have you boys got boxing gloves?" he continued.

"Sure," said Louis, "we've all got them."

"Use them every day," advised the man who climbed by their aid to fame, fortune and a beautiful heiress. "Boxing is a healthful and body building exercise."

Detroit Promoter After Risko And Delancy Battle

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Aug. 13.—Promoter Dick Dunn of the Olympic boxing arena in Detroit is due here today on a mission that may keep Johnny Risko, Cleveland heavyweight, out of the preliminary bouts in the New York elimination tournament to determine the next champion. Dunn will attempt to sign Risko to box Jack Delaney of Bridgeport, Conn., for a fight in Detroit late in November. After Sept. 7, when he meets Bearcat Wright, Nebraska negro heavyweight, in a bout at Omaha, Risko plans to take a month's rest and does not intend to fight again until December with the possible exception of the Delaney go.

Risko is said to feel that he, and not Tom Heeney, should have been selected to fight Gene Tunney this year and that it is unfair to ask him to go through another elimination tourney.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS LAND

By ED. FRITZ

PITTSBURGH Pirates yesterday travelled into the ranks of the O. & P. League and defeated Akron 4 to 1 in the Rubber City. It was a typical exhibition game. The Pirates played hard to keep from scoring more than four runs and Akron struggled hard to keep from being shut out which was accomplished. Pete Blough, Wooster college star, commenced the game for Akron but gave way to Big Jim Vaughn who allowed two hits and one unearned run. Ufema and Tauscher occupied the Pirate's box.

WITHIN a short time the football candidates will be wending their way to training camps. The call has already gone out at Pitt that Captain Alex Fox will have three score in the camp when Coach Jock Sutherland starts work. Pitt lost 17 players by graduation last year and he must mould a new backfield. According to Jock, it's bad enough but not so bad, as he put it and he believes that the teams which play Pitt this fall will have real opposition.

JOHNNY FARRELL, national open champion and Gene Sarazen, defeated Jim Heaney and Dick Richardson, professionals at Charleston, W. Va., one up, in an exhibition match at Charleston yesterday. The match was decided when Heaney failed to hole a putt on the eighteenth green.

ELIMINATION of heavyweights, alleged and actual, will start in Brooklyn, this week when Johnny Risko and Robert Roberti, Italy, clash. Humbert Fugazy will promote the bouts. Otto Von Porat, Scandinavian, stole a march on the heavies when he eliminated Pierre Charles, the Belgian, at Chicago.

HERB PENNOCK scored his seventh pitching victory of the year when the New York Yankees blanked the Boston Red Sox, 8 to 0, Sunday. The Yankees now lead the American League by a margain of five games as the Athletics were idle. In the National, the Cards took another jolt, losing to the Cubs, 4 to 2, but lead the league by six games.

Exhibition Game

The Slovak A. C. and the Mahonings of the American section of the Lawrence County Twilight League will play an exhibition game at the Cedar street field at 6:15 o'clock tonight.

There is great rivalry between these two teams and a good game is expected.

O'Leary And Dunn In Feature Roles

Cavelli To Meet Tomaskey In Six-Round Semi-Final Bout

EXPECT BIG CROWD TO WITNESS BOUTS

By ED. FRITZ

MISTER Willyum Jolly, the man who made the Jolly Bowl possible and popular, and a Monday night "Where-to-Go", with several other thousand fans, will sit back in comfortable chairs and bleachers and watch 10 paid fighters render what should prove to be one of the most appeasing pugilistic menues that has been served to a fistic-hungry public in some time. On the menu he has for the main desert none other than Dick O'Leary (Jackie Britton) and Johnny Dunn, and as these 122-pounders have a ring feud to settle, a knockout is more than a possibility.

Hearing some time ago that O'Leary and Dunn had fought and staged a spectacular battle, the promoter ordered that the two sons of biff and bing be hired to perform at his wooden saucer. There were half a dozen other promoters in pursuit of the bout, but as the foremost fistic promoter of western Pennsylvania and eastern Ohio held out a bait of 5,000 seats, O'Leary and Dunn accepted his offer and say "nay" to the other impressarios who wished to grab the fight.

Know Their "Onions"

So, tonight, fans, you should see two highly entertaining fighters—boys who know what it is all about; not a couple of palookas who lead with their chin and go down from sheer nervousness. O'Leary, under the name of Jackie Britton (which was a name he took when he first entered the ring) has fought all of the best bantamweights and boys up to 122 pounds. Dunn has done likewise and inasmuch as they fought each other evenly and are ring enemies, they both hope to win tonight.

O'Leary and Dunn got into town yesterday and appear to be in excellent condition. Both expressed confidence in their ability to win, but victory can only come after it has been garnered. O'Leary wore a grouch like a hermit whose flock of bees has taken flight, while Dunn displayed all the temperament that a man with the hives displays. To be precise, this is the way Promoter Jolly would have it, because a fighter who isn't nervous or grouchy before the bell is no more than a sluggish creature.

Cavelli vs. Tomaskey

But Dunn and O'Leary are not the only pebbles on the beach, as the small lad is wont to say; should say not, because our own Carl Cavelli, now a resident of Canton, tackles Andy Tomaskey of Midland in a six-round go. According to Tomaskey's record he is some bear. He has defeated Jose Allano twice, Al Brown, drew with Willie Davies, fought two no-decision bouts with Harry Blittman, won from Indian Russell, Harry Crisp, Mike Moran, Pinkie May, Dan Toomey and is bantam king of New Jersey.

Romeo Pacelli was scheduled to fight, but Saturday, as announced in The News, Romeo said he was ill and Young Corsey, a training mate of Cavelli, agreed to fill the bill. Cavelli says he is good. We have never seen him in action.

Local Boys to Box

Tom O'Leary, brother to Dick, will take this boy, Harry Lebo, who wants to fight anybody, and it looks as though he will have a warm session. As Tony Icone jumped out of tonight's fight with Roy Minteer, Jimmy Engle of Youngstown took his place on the card, which means that the fans will see some fast preliminaries.

The first bout will start at nine o'clock, fast time. Police will be present in all aisles to aid ushers. The police also will be seated in the bleachers, reserved sections, and in leaving the arena persons who operate automobiles are requested by the chief of police, Cy Horner, and Captain of Troffic Ed. Elder to use caution.

He's a Sensation at Amsterdam

Tired but happy—and no wonder! For the closeup was snapped just after Ray Barbuti of Lawrence, N. Y., Syracuse University student, had flashed across the tape a winner in the 400-meter championship at the Olympic games in Amsterdam. Ray's magnificent effort spared Uncle Sam the ignominy of going down to complete defeat in the flat races.

Twilight Teams To Play Benefit Game On Friday

Clifton Flats-Edenburg To Aid Dale Marshall Fund By Exhibition Game

SUGGESTS TEAMS TAKE UP MOVEMENT

Harry White, business manager of the Clifton Flats team of the Lawrence County Twilight league, comes forward today with an announcement that the Clifton Flats team will meet the Edenburg team on Friday night of this week in a benefit game for the Dale Marshall fund.

Dale Marshall is the youngster that is afflicted with blindness and his hearing gone. White suggests that all teams in the Twilight league arrange benefit games for the youngster. This is a very deserving cause and a good one.

Following is the letter received at The News office today:

Charles "Bugs" Walther,
Assistant Sports Editor,
New Castle News.
Dear Sir:—

While reading through The New Castle News I noticed the unfortunare condition of Dale Marshall, being afflicted with blindness and his hearing gone. We, the Clifton Flats baseball team of the Lawrence County Twilight league, would like to get behind this popular subscription fund and help out. The boy is deserving of support.

This week a thousand tickets selling for 25 cents each will be put on sale in a benefit game between the Clifton Flats team of the American section and Edenburg of the National section. The game is to be played on Friday night of this week and the choice of the field will be made known later.

I personally think that it would be a good thing if all of the teams in the Lawrence County Twilight league would play at least one benefit game for Dale Marshall. If any team desires the services of the Clifton Flats team for a benefit game, they can arrange the game by calling 5786 and asking for W. Stitt.

All umpires willing to donate their services for the benefit game on Friday night can call 5786.

Sincerely yours,
HARRY WHITE,
Business Manager of the Clifton Flats team; R. F. D. 1, City.

Cardinals Find Lead Decreasing

But Two And One-Half Games Separate Cardinals And New York Giants Now

YANKEES START WINNING STREAK

By LES CONKLIN.
International News Service Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK, Aug. 13.—Reeling under savage attacks by three rival clubs the St. Louis Cardinals today are in a slump as bad as the one from which the New York Yankees have just emerged. With six defeats in their last eight starts the Cards lead the fast-stepping New York Giants by only 2 1-2 games. And they have lost one more game than the New Yorkers, who did not play yesterday.

The Cubs beat the Cards yesterday, winning 4 to 2. Home runs by Hack Wilson and Kiki Cuyler caused Flint Rhem to swallow his wad of chewing tobacco and wafted the big mountainer clear into the clubhouse. Wilson's homer was his 27th of the season but Sunny Jim Bottomley of the Cards kept pace with the Chicago cherub by walloping No. 25.

Pennock in Form.

Meanwhile Sir Herbert Pennock of the Yankees turned in a three-hit classic against the Boston Red Sox for his 17th victory of the season 8 to 0.

New York's four-star pitching staff—Pennock, Hoyt, Pipgras and Heimach—has turned in five straight wins and the Yanks are five full games ahead of the Athletics who were idle yesterday.

With old Ep Rixey on the mound, Cincinnati beat he Phillies 6 to 3. George Kelley starred at bat with four hits.

General Alvin Crowder of the Browns held Chicago to four hits, while his mates kayoed Young Ed Walsh and won 7 to 0.

The Detroit Tigers got only five hits off Miller and Hudlin of Cleveland but were leading 2 to 0 until the ninth when the Indians nicked Whitehill for three runs.

Jess Petty of the Dodgers held Boston to six hits and won a 3 to 1 decision over Johnny Cooney.

The Jinx Trails Him

By Feg Murray

When John K. Miljus, former Pittsburgh pitcher, made his first appearance for Cleveland last week against the Yankees, shrill and raucous laughter might have been heard in the distance, the same being Old Man Jinx howling with glee because he had once more got the better of Old Man Miljus.

Miljus is a native of Pittsburgh and did much to aid the Smoky City team to win its pennant last year. He was used twice in the world's series with the Yankees, each time in a relief role, and the big Armenian did the best work of any of the Pirate pitchers. Then the Jinx got busy. In the fourth and final game, with Combs on third, Miljus fanned Gehrig and Meusel, and then allowed Combs to score by a wild pitch that gave the series to New York.

That was tough luck to have to do down in history as the goat of the world's series, but Miljus, who had been battered and shuffled around from the majors to the minors and back again for years, determined to have a good season this year to make up for everything. But the Jinx was still at work. Miljus had a minor illness in the spring training season and had a hard time getting into shape. His disappointing showing was one of the reasons for the Pirates' lowly position, and, on July 10, he was sent from his home town team to Cleveland by the waiver route.

When the Indians learned that under baseball law they could be compelled to reimburse the Pirates to the extent of their purchase price of $16,500 for Miljus, they balked at their bargain. But Judge Landis ruled that they had to take him.

The first team he had to face in the American league was New York. Once more he was called upon as a relief hurler. And once more the Jinx got busy. Miljus unleashed another wild pitch, helping the Yankees to win, 12-9.

College Professor Scores A. A. U. Says New Coaches Needed

Professor Of National Collegiate Athletic Association Scores Olympic Methods

Suggests That Domination Of East Be Ditched For More Capable Handlers

By DAVIS J. WALSH
Sports Editor International News Service

NEW YORK, Aug. 13.—In a few chosen words not exceeding 100,000, Brigadier General Palmer A. Pierce, professor of the National Collegiate Athletic Association, today sounded what he intended to be the valedictory of A. A. U. domination of amateur athletics, to be general, and American Olympic competition, to be specific. The rule of the favored few is about over, he intimated, and while he declined to lay the blame for American track failures directly at their door until he could learn the particulars, he somehow neglected to indicate that he felt these failures would injure his case.

"The time when a few men in the East can sit down in an office on lower Broadway and run the country's athletics by divine right is past long since," the general declared. "That was a condition that did very well in the old days when most of the competitors were in the East and, therefore, received direct attention and supervision. Times have changed greatly since then, but A. A. U. goes right on dominating under the old rules and regulations."

It was General Pierce's expressed thought that, the A. A.U. having had its chance and failed, the time was ripe for a supervisory revolution that would unseat the "archaic" form of government now in the saddle and install a few new faces with new and perhaps better ideas.

Colleges Lead

Bothe the men and their ideas would come from the colleges, the latter being almost nationally represented in Pierce's organization. The colleges supply 90 per cent of the athletes who comprise the American Olympic track and field team, yet have little or nothing to say about the activities of that team, he stated.

Among other things, he felt that the selection of the Olympic coaches should have been in the hands of a more widely representative coterie. In brief, he intimated that star chamber proceedings were in order when these nominations were acted upon.

"It is not my intention to offer criticisms of what happened in Amsterdam until the fact is established that criticism is deserved," he added. "However, I am well acquainted with what happened here before the team sailed. The colleges should have had something to say about the men who were placed in charge of their athletes. They had absolutely nothing to say about it, although we were much more adequately represented in the Olympic association this year than ever before.

Need Good Coaches

"I am not complaining about the men who were selected. They are good men, as their records prove. However, I think an old hand like Stagg's could have been used to advantage in Amsterdam. He is recognized everywhere as a great handler of men, and our Olympic teams need plenty of handling.

"The fact that the coaches were named without what we would term representative consideration is the source of our objection. One of our representatives in the Olympic association never attended a meeting because he never was notified to attend. He wired the first time to say he couldn't be there, and after that he was ignored. So were seven of the eight members of the team selection committee in one notable instance.

"No, the few men of the East had to rule, and now the end of that rule can't be far off. A few more failures and it might end automatically."

Cascade All-Stars And Imperials Split

The Cascade All-Stars and the Jewish Imperials split a double bill at the Cascade field on Saturday afternoon. The Cascade team won the first game 10 to 2 and the Imperials battled eleven innings to snatch the second game 3 to 2.

N. Ferry on the hill for the Cascade team in the first game held the Imperials to five hits and fanned thirteen men. Ferry had complete control of the game. Martin featured the game with a home run drive. Rogovin and H. Plant on the knoll for the Imperials were hit hard.

The second game was a pitcher's battle between Martin and J. Lewis with the latter having the best of the argument. Lewis allowed five hits and fanned eleven men, while Martin permitted but five hits and had five strikeouts. The Imperials showed over the winning run in the final half of the eleventh frame. H. Plant and Lenhart were the leading sluggers.

Homestead Grays Trim New Castle

Mosely Outpitches Williams, But Error Paves Way For Defeat

GARINER'S SINGLE SCORES CALDERON

PEOPLE who like to see good baseball had their fill Saturday at Centennial field when the Homestead Grays defeated New Castle 3 to 2, in what properly might be called a classic of local production.

Lefty Williams Earl Mosely opposed each other and while the Grays registered victory it can be said that Mosely had an edge on the colored pitcher.

The Grays chalked up two runs in the first when Gardner doubled to left. The ball took a bad hop and he went to third when Yoxcheimer let a ball get away.

DeHigo, the Cuban, fanned, but V. Harris doubled, scoring Gardner and a moment later the hearts of the Centennials appeared faint when Beckwith singled and V. Harris scored the Grays' second run.

New Castle went to bat and Hogan, who got to first on a free trip, scored when Calderson tried to catch Sankey McCullough, who had singled, going to second.

Score is Tied.

The score remained 2 to 1 until the sixth inning when Gibson drove a double to center and Sankey McCullough, who had partly engineered the first tally, romped home.

With DeHigo on third in the eighth inning Mosely purposely passed the good hitter, Beckwwith, with four pitched balls and then fanned Graham, which sent the Grays back to their positions in the field.

With the fans on edge in the ninth M. Harris went to bat and singled through the box Calderon went to first on Grimes' error which it might be said was a break against Mosely.

Game is Decided.

Britt sacrificed, Mosely to Shannon, and with the second and third bases occupied, Lefty Williams hit a hot one to Shannon, who made a great heave to Yoxcheimer.

Yoxcheimer got the ball and put M. Harris out as he slid into the home plate and the duo, Yoxcheimer and Shannon, drew forth a great ovation from the fans.

Gardner went to bat with Calderon on the path, two strikes were called. The next one sailed over the plate and Gardner nailed it for a single and Calderon scored the winning run.

Hold Auto Driver After Accident

Earl F. Powell of R. F. D. 6, is being held for alderman's court on the charge of driving an automotive vehicle while under the influence of intoxicating liquors, according to Chief of Police C. C. Horner, who made the charges.

Powell aws picked up by Officer Richards after he had crashed into the machine of John O'Neil of 1415 Huron avenue whach was parked in front of the home of Griff Lewis at 1204 East Washington street. He was brought to the station where he admitted that he had been driving his machine.

The Blue and the Gray Aces

By QUIN HALL.

DAN HOWLEY, the manager of the St. Louis Browns, seems to be right smart when it comes to mixing up well known combinations. Dan has taken a youthful lot of ball players and mixed them in proper proportions with a few well seasoned campaigners and is giving St. Louis one of the fightingest teams it ever had in the American League.

In addition Dan has whetted up the patriotic fervor and once again recalled the stirring Civil War days by bringing under the same tent the Blue and the Gray.

Sammy Gray, with his steady pitching, is responsible for a mess of St. Louis victories so far this season and is good for a lot more before the final standings are passed over to the hot stove league and Lou Blue is doing a first class job of initial sacking for the Browns.

The very thing that led to Connie Mack trading off Gray is proving Sammy's ace in the hole during the present campaign. Connie didn't like the persistent manner in which Sammy used the lob ball. Mack insisted that it was so slow that the opposing batters just got set and waited for it to arrive and then parked it in the four corners of the apple orchard.

Gray is using the same delivery this year, mixing it with his fast ones for a change of pace and is meeting with considerable success. Sammy, however, agrees that he's perfected the delivery so that it is much more deadly this year than last. He intimates that he needs lots of work and that on the big staff of the Athletics he didn't get a chance to pitch as often as he really should. He contends that his control improves with frequent work and he is of the opinion that he can twirl much better when he is allowed to take to the hill every fourth day.

Some of the fans were inclined to censure Mack when he traded Gray, who was acknowledged the outstanding young pitcher in 1925, to the Browns for Bing Miller. But Miller is helping out the Athletics with his heavy clouting, and Connie is in no manner angered over the trade or the fact that Sammy is making good in his new surroundings on the banks of the Mississippi River.

While never being an exceptional heavy handler of of the mace, Lou Blue has done his bit toward helping make the Browns what they are today. He covers the territory around the initial corner in an able manner, and he is a steadying influence to an infield which is very new in some spots and yet very capable.

The Browns present a pretty formidable front these days and they are proving that they can upset the bean basket for some of the so-called experting experts of the game—a few of whom gave the club no better a spot than the cellar for the end of the season.

The wise ones in the game are alloting a place in the first division to Dan Howley's crew, and if the Athletics should crack it wouldn't be at all surprising to see the Browns on the second rung of the ladder. And Howley has a few rather green timbers which are sure to show a world of improvement, and it looks as if they would come into next year's race highly respected by the other clubs in the circuit.

And probably again next year we will find the Blue and the Gray still nestling together under the wing of Dan Howley.

New Environment Is Cause Of Sisler's Fine Comeback

By NORMAN E. BROWN
Sports Writer for Central Press and New Castle News

Just what is the reason for George Sisler's remarkable comeback as a member of the Boston Braves?

The veteran first baseman, who stood a fair chance of rivaling Ty Cobb's career until sinus trouble shortened, and for a time threatened to end his baseball days, is going great guns for the National league club. This after being permitted to step out of the American league as a has-been.

He is hitting .350 or better, fielding in brilliant style and his whole attiture toward the game and life in general has changed.

Most baseball men will agree it was a mistake to saddle Sisler with the responsibilities of a manager. He is too conscientious—too thin skinned, if you will. His own sensitiveness and his appreciation of the presence of human frailties made him entirely unfitted for the whip-wielding duties of a pilot.

His belief that the average ball player would give his best without prodding and his quiet earnestness in carrying out his duties as pilot were misunderstood by players and fans as well.

His failure to deliver, with the material at hand and acquired for him, hurt Sisler worse than anyone else. It affected his playing. He became moody. But for the cheering presence of Jimmy Austin, veteran third baseman and "sidekick," Sisler might have quit the game when he failed to recover rapidly from the effects of the sinus trouble.

Apparently the strain of managing his club hindered Sisler in regaining his old form after the near tragedy. Worry probably retarded the recovery of his eyesight. This year, relieved of all outside duties and removed from the scene of his worries and managerial efforts, he has persued the even tenor of his ways. That is probably the answer to why he has played such great ball.

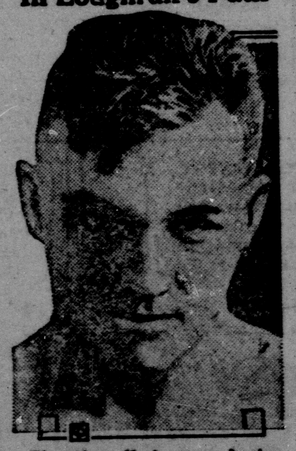

And it is in keeping with the misfortunes that have befallen Sisler that these efforts should be tossed on the desert air as the Braves, despite the presence of Hornsby as pilot, have failed to get any place.

Seven Injured When Elevated Trains In New York Collide

Empty Elevated Train Halts On Curve And Collision Occurs

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Aug. 13.—Seven persons were injured and traffic was delayed more than an hour today when an eastbound B. M. T. elevated train crashed into the rear of an empty string of cars.

The crash occurred on a sharp curve. The injured were in the front cars of the second train. All were taken to the Bradford street hospital.

The rear train motorman said the empty train stopped unexpectedly and that as he attempted to halt his train the brakes failed to hold. The motorman of the leading train said his motor had stalled on a curve and that the rear train crashed into the rear end of his train before he could get it under way again.

Fire broke out almost immediately in the empty train, necessitating a general alarm. The flames did not reach the loaded train, passengers of which scrambled off and walked along the trestling to a nearby station.

FINE OF $10.

Ten dollars or ten days was the sentence meted out to Roy Goodhart of East Madison avenue this morning in police court where he appeared on a charge of beating his wife.

Isn't He Handsome?

Young blades, attention! This is M. Foriflta, Japanese painter's conception of what the well dressed young man should wear. He was snapped on the beach, at Deauville, France, decked in shorts and "V" necked bathing costume, earrings, diamond encrusted circlets, and a slave bracelet.

New Castle Boy Sees Chum Killed

Auto Strikes Chum Of New Castle Lad Visiting In Cleveland, O.

CLEVELAND, O., Aug. 13.—A 9-year-old boy, Fred Heptley was killed instantly late yesterday afternoon at the corner of Bellaire Road and Columbia avenue S. W. where after alighting from a bus he stepped in the path of a passing automobile.

He and a chum, Frank Kulka 15, of New Castle, Pa., were returning from a ball game at Puritas Springs park. As they stepped off the bus, Heptley without pausing to look according to police reports darted into the street.

"Wait a minute!" Kulka called to him. "Wait until traffic clears."

Just as Kulka spoke a sedan going west on Columbia road struck the boy. The driver was not held by police but facts in the accident are to be presented to the prosecutor today.

Olympic Athletes Leave Amsterdam

Queen Wilhelmina Of Holland Awards Medals To Athletes In Closing Program

NEW OFFICIALS SADLY NEEDED

By FREDERICK K. ABBOTT
International News Service Staff Correspondent

AMSTERDAM, Aug. 13.—With most of the athletes who contested in the Olympic games on their way home, this city settled down to normal life today. Most of the Americans had already departed, some having gone to London to take part in the dual meet with the British Olympic team. From London the Americans go to Stockholm on their barnstorming tour.

The Olympiad officially came to a close yesterday. Queen Wilhelmina attended the closing session and received a tremendous ovation.

The equestrian competitions were among the final events on the program, Holland and Poland being tied for first place.

The last event was obstacle jumping, Spain getting first. The American contestants in this event were eliminated after the first round.

Queen Awards Medals

Prize-winners of all nations lined up on the field at the end of the day's program to receive their honors. The American contingent consisted of 35 persons, 12 of them women. Queen Wilhelmina herself handed out the medals. The United States got 22 first prizes.

The majority of the national delegations were satisfied, since 31 nations were represented in the prize list. The United States carried away more first prizes than the next two nations combined. These nations were Germany, with 11 first, and Finland, with eight.

The biggest upset was the failure of the American track men to win as many events as they had hoped for. American boxers also failed to win a single championship.

Steps are being taken to insure better judging in future Olympic boxing contests. Otherwise several nations will probably refuse to enter boxing teams.

Need New Officials

The judging was so faulty that a story is going round that one judge admitted he had never seen a boxing match before. This story is generally credited.

It is believed that a movement is afoot to insure more efficient starters for future track events, even if they are so-called professionals.

There is belief in some quarters that a majority of the Olympic difficulties which bob up anew every four years could be eliminated if the Olympic games were given a permanent home somewhere in Europe.

It is probable, however, that this idea will fail to make much headway owing to the competition of various cities to get this premier sporting event.
